

Says Dems Playing Politics

St. John Asking: What About Debt?

Republican city chairman Howard C. St. John today termed the recent concern about off-street parking shown by the democratic majority in the Common Council as "pure, unadulterated politics."

Referring to the attacks of the Democrat alderman on mayor-elect John J. Schwenk for declining to discuss his off-street parking plans with them, St. John noted:

1. The present Common Council is a "Lame Duck" legislative body, and several of Mr. Schwenk's vocal critics will no longer be aldermen when the new Council convenes.

Time Wasted

2. The present administration has had four years to solve the city's off-street parking problem, and now, in its last month in office, wishes to saddle the next administration with its "too little too late" program.

3. The mayor-elect has neither the power, the right, nor the responsibility to guide the city administration until January 1, 1962, nor will the present Common Council have the right, power, or responsibility to legislate after January 1, 1962.

Asks About Debts

4. Mr. Schwenk currently is concentrating on the important task of selecting and recruiting top-notch people to serve in key positions in his administration, preparing his program for the problems he will inherit when he takes office.

"I would suggest," St. John said, "that the Democratic majority in the Common Council utilize its last month in office by trying to justify why it was necessary to grant emergency fund raising powers to the present administration to pay the city's bills during the last two months of the year."

Crashes Take 168 Lives in Nation; State Toll Is 9

Traffic fatalities during the Thanksgiving holiday mounted to 168 across the nation at 10 a. m. today with New York State contributing nine.

The over-all death toll was 203 in the country. In addition to traffic fatalities, 16 lost their lives in fires while another 19 perished in miscellaneous mishaps.

The count of accidental deaths began at 6 p. m. Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday.

Five Fire Deaths

New York State counted a total of 37 accidental deaths during the same period last year. Twenty-one died in traffic accidents, 6 in fires and 10 in various types of accidents. This year, the state to date has counted five fire deaths.

The National Safety Council did not make an estimate of traffic fatalities for the period but the council said traffic deaths during a nonholiday, four-day weekend, would total 450 at this time of the year.

During the 1960 Thanksgiving weekend, another four-day period, there were 442 traffic deaths, 51 killed in fires and 115 fatalities in miscellaneous mishaps for a total of 608.

4 Killed in One Crash

New York's fatality toll got a big boost in numbers following an automobile and truck collision at Penfield, near Rochester, on Thursday. A brother and sister and two other men lost their lives in this crash.

The dead were identified as: George A. Forque Jr., 18, and Mary Lou Forque, 22, of Rochester; Terry G. Meisch, 22, of Irondequoit, and George Tindall, 57, of Palmyra.

In a fire north of Owego Thursday, two brothers, Richard Carman, 8, and Frank Carman, 6, lost their lives when their grandparents' home at East Berkshire was destroyed. The boys and their 7-year-old sister had gone to the home of Frank Carman, 40, for Thanksgiving. The grandfather, his wife and his three stepsons were injured.

5 Killed, Two Missing As Transport Crashes

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An Air Force transport carrying 10 men crashed and burned 17 miles south of Whitehorse Thursday. Five men died, two are missing and three parachuted safely.

The pilot was trying to nurse the crippled plane to Whitehorse, where he had taken off moments before. He reported an emergency but did not say what it was.

Motorists on the Alaska Highway watched the plane circle and then head back toward Whitehorse, in Yukon Territory.

It was reported to have crashed in deep snow at the base of a mountain. Temperatures in the area were down around zero.

A transport carried a helicopter from Elmendorf to Whitehorse to use in the search for the missing men. Five parachutes were seen drifting down.

A para-rescue team also was sent from Elmendorf to help in the search.

The three survivors were hospitalized but two were released after a checkup. They were S. Sgt. Leroy Cotton and A.1.C. J. R. Conklin. S. Sgt. Clyde L. Nicholas was held in the Whitehorse hospital for treatment of shock and bruises.

Others on Plane

Others on the plane were Capt. Wayne D. Sager, pilot; Capt. Milton L. Kimey, co-pilot; Capt. Al. After a checkup, they were S. Sgt. Lonnie Z. Foreman, mechanic; A.1.C. William J. Murphy, load master; A.1.C. David L. Paul and S. Sgt. Roger J. Forstner.

Tension Holds in Dominican Military Supports Balaguer Curfew

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Tanks roared through the streets of the newly renamed Dominican capital and jet planes zoomed overhead Thursday night to break up mobs looting Trujillo-owned properties.

President Joaquin Balaguer proclaimed a dusk-to-dawn curfew after the most violent rioting since assassination removed Dictator Rafael L. Trujillo's iron control and started the nation on the heady path of liberty.

Troops Clear Streets

The troops cleared the streets of the capital and patrolled through the night amid fears of continuing new outbreaks of vengeance against the Trujillos, all of whom have now fled the island.

The city — changed Thursday from Ciudad Trujillo to its ancient name of Santo Domingo by Congress — remained tense.

Explosions crackled throughout the night. But there were few persons on the streets and it appeared the bombs were set off by troops as a warning to vandals.

Tanks and Vampire jet planes were called out to put down the rioters. Soldier patrols removed all weapons and bullets from gun stores. The president blamed the violence on the Communists.

Mother Last to Leave

The ransacking of properties owned by the Trujillos, who ran this Caribbean nation as a private preserve for 31 years, came as the last members of the family fled into exile.

Among the last to leave was the late dictator's mother, Julia Molina Trujillo, 96. A hostile crowd at the airport fell silent as she was hoisted aboard a plane in a wheelchair for a flight to Miami.

The departure of the Trujillos left the island nation confused and wondering what next.

Balaguer in a nationwide broadcast declared: "A formula is urgent and indispensable to calm public unrest." But he was not specific.

He appealed for confidence in his promises to install democracy and said he was working toward a new formula for the government which would have the approval of the political opposition outside the extreme left wing.

This was taken to mean he was trying to work out a coalition or provisional government, but informed sources said leaders of the three chief opposition factions had "serious reserves" about the president's speech.

Meanwhile, U.S. warships still patrolled off the capital, outside the three-mile territorial limit. The U.S. government rushed them down when brothers of the dictator returned to the island last week, raising fears of a coup against Balaguer, but so far the president has not asked for their intervention.

Report That State May Build Albany Offices Downtown

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The state reportedly plans to build all its office buildings in downtown Albany in the future — reversing a policy set 13 years ago.

No further development is planned for the complex of buildings known as the state campus, on the city's western outskirts, the Albany Times-Union reported Thursday.

The newspaper said the move was apparently a decision of the State Commission on the Capital City, an 18-member body headed by Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, to help revitalize downtown Albany.

New state construction probably will be near the state capital and the Gov. Alfred E. Smith State Office Building, the newspaper said.

Two buildings have been completed at the campus site and eight others are under construction at a total cost of more than $48 million.

The campus site, dating to the Dewey administration, probably would be used eventually for the expanding State University College at Albany, The Times-Union reported.

Realizes Son's Chances Slim

Rocky Still Hopeful, May Return on Monday

MERAUKE, New Guinea (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he is still hopeful his son Michael is alive and that he will remain in New Guinea a few more days.

But the New York governor indicated the chances of his son's survival were slim, saying: "I am a realist and I know what he faces if he reached that jungle."

No Trace Yet
(A dispatch from Hollandia, the capital of Dutch New Guinea, said Gov. Rockefeller was expected to return there Sunday and to leave for New York Monday.)

Michael set out to swim more than two miles through shark-infested waters for shore after his catamaran raft capsized last weekend in treacherous currents off the wild jungle coast. No trace of him has been found.

The governor and his daughter Mary rushed by plane from New York to help in the search.

Clinging to hope, the governor said: "We want to be on hand to move at a moment's notice."

Gov. Rockefeller flew over the tangled vegetation for a personal search of the area less than an hour after arriving in Merauke Tuesday.

Two Study Terrain
He and his daughter Mary Strawbridge, Michael's twin, studied the terrain in obvious dismay as the DC3 covered the coast from the village of Merauke to the village of Agats.

The governor and his daughter traded a pair of 50-power binoculars back and forth as the plane dropped down to 1,000 feet over the jungle. Occasionally one would make a remark, but mostly they were silent. Most often the governor appeared to be reassuring Mary, whose confidence he 23-year-old brother would be found alive was obviously shaken by the air tour.

Once, over a native village half a mile inland, the governor told his daughter: "Look—if he had gone in anywhere around here, he would have made his way to that village."

Covered by Mangrove Trees
Dutch New Guinea's coastal land mass stretches flat to the horizon and all of it is covered with a thick matting of stony mangrove trees. Broad rivers cut the shore and into each flow thick muddy streams.

Parts of the coast have narrow sand beaches, but in most places the dirty green mangrove grows down to the water's edge.

Dutch officials claim a man could exist for weeks in this jungle.

Results of Talks Are Well Guarded

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev told Finnish President Urho Kekkonen today the Soviet Union "can no longer regard the north of Europe as an area of peace and tranquility" because of the activity of West German military leaders. He declared it is essential to make measures "before it is too late."

Khrushchev and Kekkonen conferred in a cottage at remote Novosibirsk in Siberia where Kekkonen sought direct word from Khrushchev on what is behind his demand for military consultations with the little north European country.

Friendly Atmosphere
The result of his talks was still a guarded secret.

The atmosphere, in diplomatic circles, fearful that Finland's neutrality might be menaced by a Soviet demand for military bases, was brightened somewhat by a joint communique issued after the conference.

It said the talks were held "in a spirit of open-mindedness, mutual understanding and sincere confidence."

The communique said the two leaders met in a hearty and friendly atmosphere.

But a report by Tass, official Soviet news agency, on Khrushchev's speech at a luncheon given for Kekkonen immediately after the talks, emphasized that Khrushchev has not changed his mind since military consultations were demanded on Oct. 30.

Vital to Baltic Peace
"Finland's neutrality is an important guarantee of the preservation of peace and tranquility" in the Baltic area, he said, adding that the Soviet Union considers

Terry Jo Spends Glum Turkey Day, First as Orphan

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Terry Jo Duperrault, who lost her parents, brother and sister in the Blue-belle tragedy, could look forward today to returning to familiar Green Bay, Wis. scenes for a while.

The administrator of her parents' estate said the pretty blonde 11-year-old probably would go to live with an aunt, Mrs. Ralph Scheer, at the Green Bay suburb of Deperre until a court names a guardian.

To Have Word on Guardian
Atty. Colburn C. Cheney said Terry Jo herself "will have something to say as far as the appointment of a guardian is concerned."

Mrs. Scheer spent Thanksgiving Day with Terry Jo in the Miami hospital room where the child is recuperating from exposure and exhaustion she suffered in 3½ days adrift on a life raft in tropic waters.

It was a glum holiday for Terry Jo. Her physician said she was "down in the dumps" on her first Thanksgiving Day as an orphan.

There was no word on when Terry Jo will be discharged from the hospital.

Dr. Arthur Duperrault, 49, a Green Bay optometrist; his wife, Jean, 38; their son, Brian, 14, and daughter, Renee, 8; and Mary Harvey, 34, were lost Nov. 12 in the mysterious sinking of the Fort Lauderdale ketch Bluebelle which the Duperraults had chartered for a Bahamas vacation sail.

Took Life After News
Mrs. Harvey's husband, Julian, 44, captain of the yacht, was rescued from a small boat Nov. 13 and came to Miami. He committed suicide less than 24 hours after hearing that Terry Jo, who had managed to launch a life raft, also had been found alive.

Harvey had told Coast Guard investigators that a squall broke the masts of the Bluebelle and knocked a hole in her hull, and that all on board jumped into the Atlantic Ocean when fire broke out. Terry Jo said the masts did not topple, she saw no fire and smelled no smoke, but did see her mother and brother lying motionless on a bloody deck.

The Coast Guard has not announced completion of its inquiry. The officer conducting it said he saw no reason to doubt Terry Jo's story of the last moments of the Bluebelle.

REMEMBERED BY CREW—Terry Jo Duperrault, 11, the only survivor among seven people who were aboard the ketch Bluebelle is shown with a doll sent to her by crew members of the Greek ship Captain Theo who rescued her. Terry Jo's parents, brother and sister died in mysterious circumstances. The vessel's captain, whose wife also died aboard, later committed suicide. (NEA Telephoto)

Two Are Injured In City Mishaps Over the Holiday

Only two persons were reported injured in five city traffic mishaps between Wednesday afternoon and early today, but two were followed by arrests, one of which apparently resulted in a domestic dispute shortly after it happened.

Eugene L. Lowe, of 105 Hunter Street, was charged with driving while intoxicated, after the car he drove allegedly struck the parked car of the Rev. S. Bradley Chappell, of 225 East Strand near that address Wednesday night.

Lowe pleaded innocent in city court Thursday morning and the case was set down for Dec. 5. He is under $100 bail.

A police report at 10:15 p. m. said Mrs. Chappell reported the car having been struck by another. Lowe claimed he was cut off by a car going in the same direction. Officer James Scott investigated and issued the summons.

An accident reported at 11:50 p. m. Thursday at Broadway and St. James Street, apparently followed by a man-and-wife dispute, resulted in the arrest of Joseph F. Scully, 26, of 202 Fair Street, on a third degree assault charge lodged by his wife, Linda Mae Scully, 19. He pleaded innocent today and the case was put over to Nov. 28.

A report on the mishap said the car driven by Linda Mae Scully was headed down Broadway and the other operated by Fred L. Bradon, of 26 Newkirk Avenue, was making a turn at the intersection. Officers Harry Short and Bernard Bouton investigated.

Barbara Layton, 30, of Kerhonkson, reported injuries of the right side after a two-car collision at Clinton Avenue and Maiden Lane early Wednesday afternoon. She was to be treated by a doctor.

Officer Louis Sapp, who investigated, said the one car, driven by Verna Craig, 57, of 105 Maiden Lane, was headed east on Maiden Lane and the other operated by Benn Yerkes, 50, of 8 Pine Street, Ellenville, was going south on Clinton Avenue. The injured woman was in the latter.

Sherry Ann Supka, 7, of RD Box 46-L, Kingston, suffered an abrasion of the nose in a two-car mishap on Pine Grove Avenue. Police said the one car driven by Edward Supka, 34, of the same address, had stopped suddenly and was hit in the rear by one driven by Irene DeCicco, 58, of 137 Cedar Street. The mishap was reported to Sgt. William Hanley at police headquarters.

The driver of a car which jumped a curb and hit a tree near 166 Albany Avenue Wednesday night, said a dog running in front of the car caused him to skid when he applied brakes. A report at 9:53 p. m. said the car was driven by Peter Falvey, 18, of 110 Fair Street. It was towed from the scene. Officers John Kennedy and Edward Ortlieb investigated.

Seymour Is Injured

Edward Seymour, 66, of 177 Fair Street, was admitted to Kingston Hospital this morning for treatment of a possible concussion after a two-car mishap on Wall near John Street. Police said a car driven by Seymour hit the rear of one operated by James Mancuso, 32, of 26 Progress Street. The mishap was reported at 8:15 a. m. Seymour was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Couple Held In Fatal Beating of Girl, 3

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Police held a Gary couple today in the fatal beating of the woman's 3-year-old daughter.

Louise Smith, 30, and her husband, Edward Smith, 22, were booked Thursday for investigation of homicide after officers found the badly beaten body of Vanessa Ann Savage, Mrs. Smith's daughter by an earlier marriage.

Police Sgt. Joseph Walker said the girl's body was covered with welts and bruises.

He said the mother explained the girl had been beaten in an effort to break her of certain childish habits.

It necessary to take measures "before it is too late for curbing the West German militarists and revanchists."

He said Russia was convinced that Norway and Denmark, by cooperating with West Germany in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, were undermining their own security and bringing "the threat on the part of German militarists and revanchists closer to the shores of Finland and the Soviet Union."

He said Norway and Denmark continued to view their military ties with West Germany "through rose-tinted glasses" despite the dangers pointed out by the Soviet Union.

Sees Military Step

West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss' visits to Norway and Denmark to discuss military questions, and plans to set up a joint Danish-West German military command, he added, "bear a strong resemblance to a military demonstration of a kind."

The situation, he declared, calls for "further consolidation of all-round cooperation" between Finland and Soviet Russia, and demands "firm confidence" that Finland will continue a policy of friendly relations with Moscow.

He voiced the suspicion that right-wing Finnish groups, including the former Social Democrat Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner, were seeking restoration of a "brotherhood in arms" with West Germans.

A member of Kekkonen's party, reached by telephone at Novosibirsk, refused to give any details of the talks from the Finnish side, except that they were held in a "cottage" on the outskirts of the Siberian city.

He said Kekkonen would make a report in a speech upon arrival in Moscow Saturday, and in another speech on his return to Helsinki.

Held on Gun Charge

Karl John Lambert, 18, Ridgefield Park, N. J., was arrested during a routine check of cars at Walker Valley Thursday. Game Protector Schneller charged Lambert had in his car a sawed-off shotgun. Investigator George Dana of the Ellenville state police took Lambert before Justice of the Peace Arthur Voshage and Lambert was held for grand jury action on a charge of possessing an illegal firearm. He was committed to jail pending fixing of bail by County Judge Raymond J. Mino.

TV Set Stolen

Police were notified Thursday night by Mrs. E. Morecka, of 432 Hasbrouck Avenue, that a table model television set had been taken from her porch. Probe Jet Wreckage

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Investigators today combed the wreckage of a New York-bound Argentine jet airliner in an attempt to determine what sent it plunging to the ground, killing all 52 persons aboard.

One U.S. citizen, Gilbert Luy, 48, was listed by the Argentine airline Aerolineas among the victims. Most of the others were Argentines.

The plane, a British-built Comet 4, crashed within seconds after takeoff from Viracopos Airport and burst into what one witness described as a "ball of fire."

The weather was clear and airline officials said the pilot gave no indication he was in trouble. The flight originated in Buenos Aires. It was the first serious crash for the Comet 4, which replaced the ill-fated Comet 1 after years of research.

WAYNE, N.Y. (AP) — Leon Brugger, 46, of nearby Hammondsport, was killed and two other men were injured today when their platform truck overturned at the intersection of two rural roads two miles south of this hamlet north of Corning.

of us, and we don't need these people that are more patriotic than you or anybody else."

His Definition
His definition of extremists included those who would "go back to eliminating the income tax, and the rights of people to unionize . . . (and those) advocating some form of dictatorship." It also included, Eisenhower said, those who "make radical statements (and) attack people of good repute who are proved patriots."

Bad Practice, He Says
Speaking as a general of the Army, Eisenhower said it was "bad practice, very bad" for an officer, even when testifying under oath before a congressional committee, to express opinions "on political matters or economic matters that are contrary to the President's."

Asked specifically about officers who try to indoctrinate their troops, the former president said: "I believe the Army officer, Navy officer, Air officer should not be talking about political matters, particularly domestically and never in the international field unless he's asked to do so because of some particular position he might hold."

Old School Burns At Hudson, 300 Pupils Need Room

Hudson's Fourth Street elementary school was badly damaged by fire and water Wednesday night in that city's fourth general alarm fire during 1961.

The building is Hudson's second oldest school building. Actual damage was confined to the State Street side of the building, extending from the main floor entrance and hallway to the library and two fifth grade classrooms on the second floor. However, water damage to adjacent areas was extensive.

The board of education will hold an emergency session today to determine what will be done with the 300 pupils when school resumes after the Thanksgiving vacation period. Adequate quarters will have to be found to house them outside the building.

Khrush, Finn Launch Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev and Finnish President Urho Kekkonen conferred in remote Novosibirsk today and announced their talks were held "in a spirit of open-mindedness, mutual understanding and sincere confidence."

The secret talks were a supreme effort by Kekkonen to find out just what Khrushchev wants from his small beleaguered homeland.

Alleging a threat to both countries from West Germany, Russia has demanded joint defense talks. Such joint defense could have a tremendous impact on Finnish independence and neutrality.

A joint communique issued by Khrushchev and Kekkonen gave no details of the discussions. But diplomatic quarters in Moscow were encouraged by the tone of the communique, which referred to "a hearty and friendly atmosphere."

Kekkonen will fly back to Moscow Saturday then take the train for home.

The conference opened shortly after Khrushchev reached the city after interrupting a tour of Siberian farming areas.

OLD LIES DIE HARD

Joseph Stalin has been dead for nearly eight years but Nikita Khrushchev is finding that the memory of the former Russian premier and strong man is hard to erase. He is finding that it takes more than the removal of Stalin's body from Red Square to blot out 30 years of enforced Stalin worship.

During that time span the Russians were told that Stalin could do no wrong—and Khrushchev, a Stalin lackey, helped promote the absurdity. Now Khrushchev, the man in power, has discovered that the "cult of personality" he helped to foster when Stalin was at the helm dies as hard as do the Stalinists he now denounces. He is right in calling Stalin a tyrant and mass murderer, but Stalin-indoctrinated Russians find it difficult to adjust to the new line.

So do Communists elsewhere—in Red China, Albania, Italy, France, Poland. The split revealed at the recent Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow is widening. The Kremlin faces a growing challenge to its claim of being the ideological capital of world communism. The row is reassuring evidence that communism is not an all-united force, and that 30 years of fraud and thought control bear bitter fruit.

GOOD YEAR COMING

Some 150 economists attending a University of Michigan conference on the economic outlook were agreed that for 1962 the prospects are good. Cyclical factors, together with a tense international political climate, increase the likelihood that the economists' guesses will be fulfilled.

One of the cyclical factors these men relied on is that of inventory accumulation. Consumer goods on both the retail and the wholesale level are in uncommonly short supply for this time of year. These inventories must be built up, and this activity in itself should keep production lines busy for a good part of next year. Furthermore, what must be done for defense is indefinite only on the up-side. It is hard to see how the defense budget can be reduced any time soon.

Given these elements, which should result in a high level of economic vigor for 1962, the big question remains: Can all this be done without excessive inflation? Inflationary pressures should show up first in the consumer price index. What the economists predict for this index is, therefore, of prime importance.

In their opinion prices will rise about 1.5 per cent. While this can hardly be called price stability, it would still be somewhat less than the 1.7 per cent rise experienced in the prosperous period 1955-56.

In sum, 1962 should be a better than average year for business. Part of this prosperity will be paid for with inflation. But even so, there should be a net gain in the country's economic growth.

MUSIC AND MORALITY

A study of a possible relationship between musical taste and youthful delinquency might prove fruitful. The thought comes to mind when one considers the sort of music that is so popular today.

Numerous singers, both male and female, appeal to teen-agers on television, in movies and on records with unabashedly erotic love songs which are a far cry from the "Bicycle Built for Two" type of ditty popular in the early part of the century. Even as recently as a generation ago, the young were not subjected to this style of singing, which was reserved for adult night club audiences.

Fortunately, there are other forces at work in the realm of music. Programs of musical education and appreciation in the public schools, special symphony concerts for young people, both "in person" in the larger cities and on radio and television, have brought fine music within the reach of millions of young listeners.

Musical educators maintain that the place to start training for appreciation of good

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ROCKEFELLER'S MISFORTUNES

The United States has an astonishing divorce rate but when we find our public men doing as we do, we tear their eyes out. Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York was, up to this week, the leading aspirant for the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1964. Then his wife started action for divorce and the puritanical attitude of our people asserted itself.

Up to the moment of the announced divorce, Rockefeller was regarded as an extraordinarily devout Baptist, the son and grandson of extraordinarily devout Baptists, although actually we know nothing about the private lives of any of these persons or of any others unless we are members of their intimate families or extremely intimate friends.

It used to be customary in this country for the husband to drive his wife into the biting cold and snow when she sinned. The husband was expected to sin and if he misbehaved too overtly, his wife sued for divorce; it was unmanly for a man to denounce the morals of his wife. Now, either one asserts moral superiority and turns to the courts to demand righteous treatment. Usually, both are to blame.

The public generally assumes that there are two causes for divorce: adultery and misbehavior. Actually, all sorts of abuses occur in a family which lead to its collapse. The word, incompatibility, is often used to cover a multitude of errors.

It is a little hard to understand why a man and woman who have been married 31 years should want to be divorced. It seems a waste of time. If incompatibility is the reason, the intervening period has been too long for any novel misunderstanding. If it is adultery, the likelihood is that no sudden discovery is the motive. In the case of the Rockefellers, it cannot be misbehavior or excessive expenditures. There is no advantage in speculation and the conclusion must be reached that there is some miserable pride in all this.

But the public is likely to search for hidden motives and this search, rather than the unavailable truth, will damage Nelson Rockefeller's political career. The divorce comes at a moment when he is to run for his second term for Governor and upon this election depends his prospects for the Presidency. No divorced man has been elected President of the United States, although there is no law against it. Grover Cleveland was chosen for the Presidency despite a generally accepted illicit parenthood on his part.

Woodrow Wilson suffered a mass of rumors of an improper relationship with the wife of a colleague at Princeton. Actually a Congressional committee indirectly investigated this matter when Justice Brandeis' confirmation came before the Senate. I have learned who helped Wilson over this tough spot but am pledged to silence which I shall keep, as the matter is of no personal or historic importance.

There were always tales about Franklin D. Roosevelt, most of which sounded impossible and ridiculous. Adlai Stevenson was divorced and was Governor of Illinois and this led to a series of rumors most of them too vile to repeat. The public jumps at every possibility of moral turpitude, since as a matter of fact, these personal tragedies are not anything that the public knows or they leave a sad memory that lasts through life. Anthony Eden's career was nearly wrecked by a divorce; the Duke of Windsor was forced to give up his crown because he married a divorced woman.

There is considerable unfairness in all this because it is not known which is the guilty party. For instance, Princess Margaret was not permitted to marry Peter Townsend because he was a divorced man, although admittedly innocent. I have no inside dope on the Rockefeller situation. Cholly Knickerbocker, the society columnist, who is more reliable than most in his trade, has written about it, but he apparently knows no more than any of the rest of us, which is unusual because he has a penchant for uncovering the foibles of others.

The conclusion must be reached from the available information that here are two adults who should have better sense and who should kiss and make up. No political adversary of Nelson Rockefeller wants to kindle the kind of gain out of this sort of tragedy. Surely, Barry Goldwater and Richard Nixon would rather defeat him in the Convention than in the bed-chamber.

Cost and Effects of 'Shots'

Can Make Them Impractical

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In preceding columns, I've suggested self-help in the reduction of family medical costs relative to the purchases of vitamins, minerals, pain killers, appetite depressants and tranquilizers. Now, with a nod to those who might disagree, I'd like to discuss the matter of "shots."

When I started practice, many American doctors criticized the continental custom of giving injections for almost every known ailment. Scarcely a European traveler returned without a supply of impressively colored, attractively packaged little flasks that contained fluids of unknown composition or doses of substances of little therapeutic value with which a "cure doctor" worked "miracles." As in the world of fashion today, it was assumed that any imported product was, by this very fact, superior to anything domestic. Now when we Americans begin riding a fad, we really ride it to a fare-thee-well. And this is what I believe has happened with abuses of the giving of "shots." Quite likely this is exploited by a minority of my colleagues, but it's a practice that, all too often, is demanded by patients of their doctors.

Efforts of our pharmaceutical industry to perfect preparations that can be taken by mouth have been so successful that "shots" are rarely needed except in the case of quite sick patients, either in their homes or in hospitals. For example, except for an occasional dose of vitamins B12 and K, there is no need to give vitamin shots to most individuals who are up and about. I'm not talking here about an injection for a local sore spot. And the same may be said of "gland shots" and of shots of penicillin and most of the other "miracle" antibiotics many of which often seem to be prescribed as if they were as harmless as cough lozenges.

Now, aside from the matter of reactions from "shots," there's the matter of costs. For you to take or demand a shot of a medicine you can as well take by mouth, you have to travel to the doctor's office, wait your turn to be cared for, pay a fee for each injection, and travel home or back to work. You may be also suffering as consequences of an injection a painful local reaction, an attack of hives or, on rare occasions, a bout of "syndrome jaundice."

Next time, before you ask for a "shot"—or take one—maybe you might think of the household budget. For, with what you can save by taking mouth doses, you might buy a pair of shoes for the kids.

The Quick and the Dead

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—New contracts between the United Auto Workers and the automobile manufacturers are probably the most complicated labor agreements ever written.

Neither the union nor the companies are making any estimates of what the new benefits will cost, for good reasons.

Department of Labor economists figure that the increase in take-home pay for the workers will be 11 to 12 cents in the first contract year, 13 to 14 cents the second. They say it's impossible to make third-year estimates. Independent experts estimate total benefits will be 31 cents an hour over the three-year life of the contract.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT argue that the new contracts are not inflationary because they make no immediate advance in the basic hourly wage rate. It now averages $2.78 an hour for the entire industry. Including overtime, the industry average was $2.86 an hour last July.

This is calculated on a straight-time rate of $2.61 an hour plus 17 cents an hour cost-of-living escalator clause increases since 1953. But under the new contract 12 cents of this is to be added to the basic hourly rate, making $2.73.

There will be a new cost-of-living-factor computation for the last quarter of this year. There may be an upward wage adjustment of a cent or so for that.

Next May the annual productivity increase of 2.5 per cent of basic wage rate or six cents an hour, whichever is higher, will be added to the pay envelope.

BUT EVEN THESE automatic wage increases will not tell the whole story. For they do not include increases which the new contracts grant for pensions, company assumption of all medical costs (50 per cent for retired employees), insurance, severance pay, moving expenses, wash-up time and 5 per cent of hours worked, of 24 minutes a day guaranteed relief time.

The companies have also agreed to pay five cents an hour per worker to build up supplementary unemployment benefit (SUB) funds until November 1962.

New SUB benefits granted will give workers 65 per cent of basic wage rate for the difference between hours worked and the normal 40-hour week during scheduled layoffs. 50 per cent for unscheduled layoffs. Benefits will be paid 52 weeks instead of 26.

In effect, auto workers now have 62 per cent of the guaranteed annual wage they were denied a few years ago.

No one has been able to compute accurately the cost of all these fringe benefits. Union officials estimate them at 25 per cent of the basic wage rate. This would be around 70 cents an hour and make the real auto wage about $4 an hour.

If this is the trend in which major wage agreements are to be made in the future, it will be something to watch.

LABOR, MANAGEMENT, GOVERNMENT statisticians, economists and the tax collectors are kidding themselves if they go on maintaining there is no inflation when basic wage rates are held down, if fringe benefits continue to rise.

Automobile industry spokesmen apparently feel no strain over the contracts they have just signed with UAW. Ford stock is at an all-time high. General Motors declared an extra 50-cent dividend just after the contract was signed.

Chrysler and Studebaker are finding it harder to meet these conditions and may be granted some concessions. But American Motors felt so confident that its contract establishes profit sharing for the first time in the industry.

THE PRINCIPLE IS that after 10 per cent of gross sales have been set aside for company profits and dividends, 15 per cent will be set aside for increased employee benefits and stock purchases for employees. The stock will be taken from the 12 million authorized but unissued shares now held by AMC. But the details of this transfer have not yet been agreed to.

How it will work out and what it portends for the rest of the automakers and all industry are unpredictable factors.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 — I began fighting corruption in labor unions about 1936. Up to that time "labor" was a sweet synonym for a great, unsuspected secret corruption with unchallenged authority to blackmail both industry and workers. To most Americans the union movement was as virtuous as Motherhood, Religion and F. D. Roosevelt himself, whose character was thus far unknown to us. It seemed almost blasphemous to doubt his godliness. He had a musical voice that prattled platitudes written for him by ghost writers such as Charlie Michelson and Sam Rosenman. He was a poor writer himself and his scholarship was superficial. By his appeal to the selfishness and self-pity of millions of poor people he drugged the intelligence of much of the population and the press.

Roosevelt took over the union movement, largely a racket, within a year. John L. Lewis thought he was taking over Roosevelt; in the long run, however, Roosevelt outmaneuvered him. Lewis did achieve a high degree of power and prosperity for members of his family, but he shrank to pygmy stature in the end.

I have pondered whether Roosevelt really knew at first how crooked the union movement was. I doubt that he did know, for he had little personal contact with the people, even the important politicians of the country, at that time. He had narrowly won the nomination in 1932 and he was still a stranger in his first year, surrounded by superficial study-boys, whom General Hugh Johnson soon began to call the professoriate. He was not yet acquainted with the old-time professionals of the American Federation of Labor. Most of those old-timers have now died off, though their successors have stood their ground in the new organization called the AFL-CIO. The power of unions over millions of workers remains as great as it was before, notwithstanding disclosures of criminal conduct.

By this negative process the Government of the United States has confirmed the thrall of the millions of workers whose citizenship is diminished by the compulsions imposed by union rules. The population seems not to object to this important shrinkage of the freedoms which were conferred by the Founding Fathers. State governments have yielded except in the minority of states that have adopted right-to-work laws. Yet already these state laws, some of them expressed in state constitutional amendments, have been revoked by decree of the National Labor Relations Board, which is a mere bureau of the Administration. The Supreme Court has been ambiguous about these revocations of state laws by this Federal bureau. In theory these laws guarantee the worker a right to a job even though he refuses to join a union which claims a closed shop in a given plant. But in practice, coercion by the majority or a belligerent minority can intimidate the objector. Even in England, where respect for law formerly was a matter of great national pride, the unions have relied on personal abuse to scare the hardest objector into compliance.

Only a handful of union racketeers were sent to prison for extortion and other familiar crimes. It should be conceded that the Republican Party was equally eager to accommodate these unionists but was unable to compete with the Democrats who already had lined up the union bosses on their side. The power of unions to shake down workers for campaign funds for the Democrats was so obvious that it never was denied. And the Democratic machine was in power. It had the initiative. When Congress made a pretense of forbidding extortion for campaign funds from the wages of the worker, the unionists invented the pretext of "education." They raised money by the same old method to enlighten the stiffs about their rights and the wicked intentions of the Republicans.

Some citizens obtusely believe that this is a calamity. However, I had the notion when I am consoled by the thought that this is the inevitable way in our country. That is to say, we have repealed the Constitution in many phases and retain only a superstition, an illusion, that we still have a Constitution providing all the old rights and boons.

The right to a fair trial is still maintained in print. The unions, however, have their private laws forbidding conduct which is legal under public law. The punishments for violations of union laws are terrible, but most workers are too smart to violate them. Thus they waive certain Constitutional rights but without giving the matter a thought. The union trials are absurdly unfair by the standards of our public courts, yet no public prosecutor ever thinks of indicting a body of union judges.

We have been hearing renewed outcries against extortionate pay for overtime and even for straight time on defense jobs at Canaveral, but this is mere repetition. Nobody ever will know how many billions were added to the war for World War II by such extortions under Roosevelt. However, big defense contractors just added the extortion to their bids. The bill has been passed along to Posterity.

The job of managing our country and maintaining our freedom against our own people was just too great for our awareness and our sense of honesty.

Among the survivors were Mrs. Felix Faber of Hammondsport, N.Y., a daughter. McCarthy started the company

Marine writers in Great Lakes port cities cited him as "Man of the Year" in 1957 for his contributions to Lakes shipping.

Up-to-Minute Musical

NEW YORK (AP) — A musical based upon activities of the federal administration's Peace Corps is planned by Dorothy Fields, co-author and lyricist of many tune shows. Miss Fields has chosen "Side by Side" as the title of the long-range project. Some of the unpublished music discovered last year in the estate of composer Jerome Kern may be used.

Adventists Set
Sabbath Service

Sabbath School of the Kingston Seventh-day Adventist Church will open at 10 a. m. with a song service under the direction of Mrs. Lorice Landstrom. Following the opening exercises led by Mrs. Carl Johnson, classes will separate to study and discuss the lesson for the week entitled "The Unforgettable Friend." The children will meet with Mrs. Andrew Seaman and her assistants in their Sabbath school rooms.

Divine worship will begin at 11:30 a. m. Thanksgiving is the title of the Rev. Eric R. Norman's sermon.

Saturday evening the annual Harvest In gathering will begin officially. Bands will leave the church early to begin the gathering in of funds. Each church member has a personal goal of $25. Funds will go toward extending welfare, disaster aid, and educational services at home as well as a widespread medical, welfare, and educational ministry in 194 other countries.

On a world basis volunteer Adventist workers in 1960 gave 6,930,464 hours in welfare services to 6,899,332 persons. More than $1,535,334 in cash, some 6,496,913 articles of clothing, and 4,105,104 food baskets were contributed. Approximately 50 per cent of this aid was given in North America. Seventh-day Adventist members themselves contributed more than $90,474,000 last year toward the support of their world church program, in addition to welfare activities. Leading the local volunteer workers participating in the city-wide drive is Andrew Seaman, church home missions director.

The Dorcas Welfare Society of the Kingston church distributed 23 Thanksgiving baskets to needy families in this area. The Dorcas thanks all members and stores who helped to make this project a success.

Dorcas will meet Wednesday 2 to 4 p. m. At 7:30 p. m. fellowship hour will be held.

Swallows His $83
During Search at Police Station

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerard Murray had "lettuce" for his Thanksgiving Day dinner—83 dollars' worth.

Murray, 21, was hauled into a Brooklyn court Thursday and accused of assaulting a policeman. He was booked on charges of simple assault and malicious mischief.

As per custom, the prisoner's personal belongings were being taken from him.

Murray balked and cried, "You're not going to get my money."

With that, he began stuffing 10's 5s and one dollar bills into his mouth. When Murray finished chewing the bills, a patrolman gave him a glass of water for a chaser.

Decision Expected Soon
On Condition of River

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Sanitary Water Board is expected to reach a decision by January on whether the Lackawanna River should be reclassified as a clean stream, according to a state official.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbur, state secretary of health and chairman of the water board, says the Lackawanna River watershed has "capabilities of becoming attractive to industry, sportsmen, recreationists and other users if the river is rehabilitated."

The Pennsylvania Department of Health has in general classified the river as needing complete treatment near its headwaters in Wayne and Susquehanna Counties. Also, the board regards the Lackawanna as acid-impregnated over a 40-mile stretch between Forest City and Pittston, where it meets the Susquehanna River.

Advised It Was Devil Asking for Equal Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Remember the smoke that curled from the lectern while Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston delivered the invocation at President Kennedy's inaugural last January?

"That was the devil asking for equal time," a letter-writer suggested to the cardinal later. The Boston archbishop told the story in remarks prefacing his sermon at the annual Pan-American Mass here Thursday.

He said most people who commented on the invocation thought it was too long. It ran more than 10 minutes.

Four clergymen participated in the inaugural. "I thought I was the only one," said the cardinal. "Why they had to have four of us there praying for him, I don't know."

For Expectant Dads

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The new million-dollar, 80-bed West Seattle General Hospital, dedicated Wednesday, has the ultimate for expectant fathers—oxygen in the maternity waiting room.

After 14-Year Break

Brazil Renews Red Ties, May Mean Woes for Neves

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Brazil renewed diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union Thursday in a move apparently intended to demonstrate its freedom from U.S. domination—but it could mean trouble for the wobbly young government of Premier Tancredino Neves.

After a 14-year break, Foreign Minister Francisco Santiago Dantas announced the resumption of formal ties with Moscow during a tumultuous session of the Chamber of Deputies in Brasilia. Anti-Communist deputies almost shouted him down.

Angry congressmen, shouting "shame" contended that the Communists already had a strong enough hold in Brazil without the presence of Soviet diplomats in Rio de Janeiro and the inland capital.

Neves told newsmen that the renewal of relations did not mean that Brazil—which is 95 per cent Roman Catholic—is selling out its democratic Christian ideals.

There has been no concession on the part of the Brazilian government, said Neves.

Relations with the Soviet Union have been a hot potato for Brazilian politicians since President Eurico Gaspar Dutra angrily broke with Moscow in 1947 because of Soviet newspaper attacks on him and Brazilian army generals.

President Juscelino Kubitschek toyed with the idea of restoring relations. He finally sided with the West in the cold war, but he did set up commercial relations with the Soviet Union.

Enigmatic Jari Quadros—who succeeded Kubitschek and then quit in a huff last August, set in motion the machinery to exchange envoys with Moscow once more.

Gen. Hartle Dead, Led 34th Division In World War II

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who led America's first troops into England in World War II is dead.

Maj. Gen. Russel P. Hartle, 72, of Hagerstown, Md., died in Walter Reed Medical Center here Thursday. He had been hospitalized earlier this year at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Tex., after surgery for a blood clot.

A veteran of 36 years in the Army, Hartle was given command of the 34th National Guard Division shortly after Pearl Harbor. It was the first Army unit to leave for Europe.

He is survived by his widow and three sisters. Funeral services and burial are scheduled for Monday in Hagerstown.

Hunters Find Body Of Strangling Victim

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The charred body of a strangling victim has been found in a hunting area in suburban Penfield.

Burns over most of the dead man's body obscured his identity, said Monroe County Sheriff Albert W. Skinner.

The victim, found Thursday by a hunter and his son, was lying face-down, with rope around his neck and wires binding his hands.

His belt and shoes were missing, Skinner said the dead man, about 30, "probably had been killed by two or more persons" and his body dumped in the hunting area. County medical examiner Robert M. Greendyke, after an autopsy said the victim died of strangulation sometime after Tuesday morning.

Thinks Penn Markets May Make Sunday Sales

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A lawyer feels that a lot of supermarkets may be able to operate on Sundays even though a new state law bans Sunday food sales by stores with 10 or more employees.

Atty. Walter A. Koegler of Pittsburgh said the new law is vague, but he believes most of the stores he represents will be exempt under certain provisions of the measure.

Koegler obtained a temporary restraining order from U. S. District Court here on Oct. 26, banning enforcement of the new law at 21 supermarkets in eight western Pennsylvania counties.

But a panel of three federal judges lifted the order last Tuesday and ruled that the state courts have sole jurisdiction.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 24—The possibility of devastation from nuclear explosion is now a matter of concern to the whole world. It could be argued that this dismal prospect will have a depressing effect on the value of fire and life insurance stocks. However, the insurance industry assumed no war risk liability during World War II, but acted merely in the capacity of a government agent when war risk insurance was instituted. Today, most of the insurance policies which are in force exclude payment for damages from enemy action. These facts should at least be reassuring to those investors who own insurance stocks.

What About Price Controls?

A study of fire insurance common stock prices, from the post-depression stock market peak of 1937 to the wartime low in 1942, indicates that they held up better than twice as well in value as did the mighty Dow-Jones Industrial Average during that same interval. Hence, despite the pressures of wartime uncertainties during World War II and the rigid price controls in effect then, investors owning stocks of companies insuring property and life had much less worry than those who pinned their faith on the issues which made up the Dow-Jones Average during that time.

Today investors are disturbed about the possibilities of controls and anxious about what their institution might do in the way of depressing common stock values. This is not so serious a matter for stockholders of fire and life insurance companies because price controls would at least dampen down the chronically rising costs encountered in settling claims and would thus tend to improve underwriting results for the insurance companies. In short, business stocks are not so vulnerable to price controls as industrial stocks are.

Fire Insurance Stocks

Fire insurance companies traditionally hold a substantial part of their reserves in common stocks. These insurance stock portfolios are managed with professional skill, providing the stockholders with advantages similar to those enjoyed by owners of good investment trust stocks—without the added cost of the salesman's commission and the continuing management fee.

This leads us to the conclusion that many insurance stocks now represent good value for holding during this time of trouble and danger and 100-megaton bombs. I therefore recommend that all investors have at least one well-chosen fire and life insurance stock in their list of securities to help them maintain peace of mind in this dangerous atomic age.

Life Insurance Stocks

Both fire insurance stocks and life insurance stocks have the public working with them. The cost to the city in which you live—for its fire department, Gamewell fire boxes, etc.—directly benefits all fire insurance stocks. This is especially important with fire insurance losses constantly increasing year by year. Furthermore, fire insurance policies are issued, as a rule, for only three years, and seldom for longer than five years. This gives the companies opportunity to readjust their rates according to changing conditions. These rates are set by the state authorities, and they are known to be fair in making adjustments.

The public goes even further in "helping" the life insurance companies. Every doctor, hospital, and individual is working to protect life and lengthen the lifespan. Polio epidemics have been virtually eliminated, while, because of proper municipal sanitation, very few cases of diphtheria or typhoid now occur. Tuberculosis is still being fought by private associations and other means. I repeat that all individuals, physicians, and municipalities work to eliminate disease, and this benefits every life insurance company. The biggest danger now is the automobile, which has not yet been controlled.

Service Clubs Hear Rev. Werner

A pre-Thanksgiving message to be truly thankful for the abundance of material things and to cherish our freedoms was brought to members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs in joint meeting Wednesday. The speaker was the Rev. George P. Werner, Kingston district superintendent of the New York Methodist Conference.

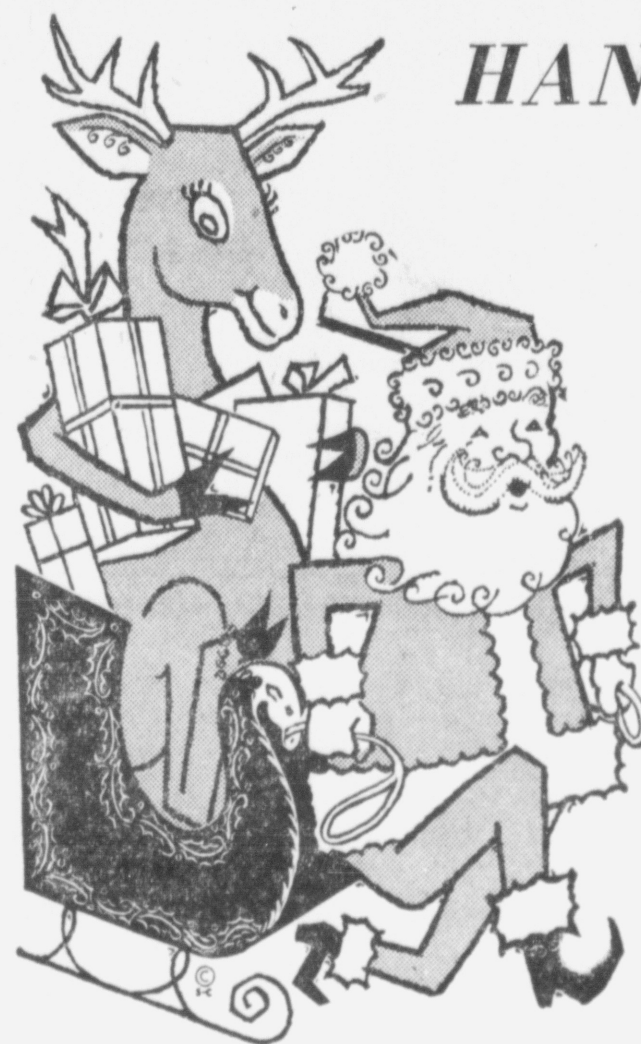

The Rev. Mr. Werner, who traveled some 2,000 miles behind the Iron Curtain, gave a vivid, first-hand description of the way of life of the people who have lost their freedom of worship, of decision and of choice in reading, listening and in expression. In the City of Moscow, reputed to have seven million people, there is but one Protestant Church, a Baptist meeting house, newspapers are limited to three communist edited papers and the Voice of America program of news is jammed, he declared.

He also contrasted the happy life of the people of West Berlin with that of the grim existence of those in the Eastern sector. The inferior quality of merchandise as compared to western standards was everywhere in evidence, he said. An orange sold by gram weight cost 80 cents and an overcoat or suit would go as high as $125. A tradesman in Russia would average approximately $80 a month.

There were no traffic jams on Moscow streets, because automobiles were very scarce.

Y Directors Hear Of New Programs

The YMCA Board of Directors held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Y Youth Division with Chester A. Baltz Jr. president, presiding.

The general report of activities for all departments was read by Secretary Louis H. Schafer. He mentioned the concluding games of the fall Young Men's Basketball league Saturday, Nov. 25 and the beginning of the Winter League Tuesday, Nov. 28 with 12 teams competing for honors of the YMCA for 1961-62. Steve Orozco, physical director, is organizing a boys' swimming team that will start Monday, Jan. 27. Also the latest activity added to the physical program, Judo, under the direction of Richard Girard. Girard is a retired Air Force veteran and a holder of the black belt, which is a high honor on the Air Force. This year an All-Star Basketball, possibly to be known as the Y variety, will represent Kingston in home and home games with other fast basketball aggregations along the Hudson River and in the Metropolitan area.

G. Herbert DeKay, Youth Division Committee chairman, told of the many activities in the Youth department. He spoke well of the new craft classes which are creating much interest in the making of handiwork for boys of all ages. Leon Van Heusen, youth director, plans to organize a boys membership contest so as to add more members to the boys department. The complete program at the Y is growing. The report ended by stating that a special program will be promoted during the Christmas holidays. This program will start Friday, Dec. 22 with a boy member and his sister with a special Christmas entertainment novelty that will conclude with presents from Santa Claus and the receiving of refreshments and Christmas candy.

Clifford Henze, chairman of the committee on the revision of the YMCA constitution and by-laws, presented the new proposal. The constitution that has been revised was re-read and special insertions added to bring it up to date. The by-laws will be presented at the December meeting. It is the hope of President Baltz that the new constitution and by-laws will be fully completed so that they can be ratified at the annual meeting in February, 1962.

Directors attending the meeting were: Chester A. Baltz Jr., John R. Shults Jr., vice president; the Rev. Roy Hassel, Bernard Mizel, Clifford Henze, Addison Jones, William S. Keyser, Henry Millonig, G. Herbert DeKay, Louis H. Schafer, general secretary and Leon I. Van Heusen, youth director.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—At home and abroad the lines are being drawn tighter today in the battle of world trading blocs.

At home it's developing into an old-fashioned tariff fracas.

In Europe the industrial nations again are cutting the tariff rates within their own rival clubs. In Brussels, the European Common Market nations are laying down the terms on which Britain can join. In Geneva, a 40-nation debate starts next week on how to avert an all-out conflict between various blocs around the world.

The United States' fears are threefold. It could be squeezed out of the increasingly profitable Western European market. Booming European and Japanese industries could compete ever more favorably in world markets. A number of industries at home could be further hurt by an increasing inflow of cheaper foreign goods.

See Ultimate Advantages

The Kennedy administration would like authority to cut U.S. tariffs further in bargaining with European trade blocs to get a more equal market there for American goods. It holds that lower barriers everywhere will be to the advantage of all in the long run, even if some are hurt now.

A number of U.S. industries oppose this policy vigorously.

The battle over tariffs is expected to hit a peak shortly after Congress reconvenes.

The current moves abroad are all toward free trade—within the blocs, with the United States and Canada among those on the outside looking in.

Common Market Nations—France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg—are outlining in Brussels the terms on which Britain may align itself with them. Chief problem is how Britain can do so without too much damage to the trade of Canada and other Commonwealth nations, which would not be included.

North's two-club response to South's opening spade bid represents deceptive bidding tactics carried to a rather silly extreme. But the game was duplicate and North was willing to sacrifice a possible slam in order to pick up a possible overtrick.

Things worked out exactly that way. South was content to pass at four spades. He saw no point moving toward slam when his singleton was in North's bid suit.

West saw no reason to open a club and led the jack of diamonds, whereupon South had no trouble romping off with all 13 tricks; the 12 he had against any lead, plus one more that a club lead would have kept from him.

This time the deception proved to be valueless. True, the slam proved difficult to bid and only a couple of North-South pairs got there, but it seems that when four spades was reached on normal bidding no West player opened a club. If North showed the

At the same time the seven other European industrial nations in the rival club—Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Austria, Portugal and the United Kingdom—announce they will match the Common Market's upcoming 10 per cent cut in tariffs.

To Offset Both Blocs

For both blocs this will mean a total drop of 40 per cent since they were formed. The cuts affect members only. But the advantages may be extended to outsiders—with bargaining for equal concessions a usual aim.

In Geneva next week trade ministers of 40 nations that are full members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—which includes the United States—will meet to discuss the impact of trading blocs on world trade in general. Besides the European blocs, others are forming in Latin America and in Africa, and are being discussed in Southeast Asia.

GATT's original purpose is to lower trade barriers generally around the world. Its progress along these lines now seems endangered by the rise of rival blocs, and by the growing demand for protection in those outside the blocs, such as the United States. By the time Congress meets to take up the domestic demands for protection the worldwide battle lines may be still more clearly defined.

Ancient Car

ALLENHURST, N. J. (AP) — A 1921 Briggs and Stratton buckboard owned by Howard Stokes still has plenty of get-up-and-go—and what's more, it gets 90 miles to a gallon of gas. Stokes, an assistant counselor for an insurance company, says the low-slung auto has been in the family since his father bought it in 1926. "It remained under the porch rusting away for many years," he says, "until I decided to drag it out and get it back in running condition just before World War II. To my surprise and just about everyone else who sees it, the buckboard's been running ever since."

Body of Woman, Like Mummy, Is Discovered on Bed

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The body of a woman who died 15 years ago has been found in a mummified state in her daughter's apartment.

Found on a bed, covered by a mattress, clothing, a rug and newspapers, the body of Mrs. Mary Nowinski was in a state of high preservation, morgue officials said.

It had been wrapped in cloths that might have been soaked in an oil, they said.

Police said the daughter, Miss Blanche Nowinski, 55, told them she had complied with her mother's request not to be buried in the family cemetery plot because of family disagreements.

Neighbors reported to police, however, that Miss Nowinski had told them her mother was in a home for the aged.

Miss Nowinski told police she had taken care of her mother for more than 10 years until she died of natural causes on Feb. 14, 1946, at the age of 80.

Miss Nowinski's landlord found the body when he investigated her apartment after seeing her run from the house. She was picked up by police early Thursday.

Miss Nowinski has consented to be examined at a city hospital, police said. No charge has been placed.

Buffalo Board Votes For Community College

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Board of Education has unanimously approved a measure to sponsor the construction of a two-year community college.

The board Wednesday estimated the school would cost an estimated $5.6 million, with facilities for 1,500 students. Tuition would be about $300 annually.

Dr. Joseph Manch, school superintendent, said up to 2,500 young people in Buffalo could use such a college.

The next step is approval by the executive dean for institutes and community colleges of the State University of New York.

New Mrs. America Looking to Travel As Big Interest

FOR LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Cleve B. Masson is a lucky fellow. Not only is his wife the new Mrs. America, but serving her the traditional breakfast in bed is no great problem—she seldom eats much in the morning.

Auburn-haired Lila Masson, a pretty 5-foot-5 mother of three, had her mind more on the extensive trips she will make in the next year on behalf of sponsors of Mrs. America, 1962.

"I've never traveled much" said Mrs. Masson, who lives in Redford Township, Mich., near Detroit. "I'm really looking forward to it."

Mrs. Masson, 39, was chosen Mrs. America Thursday in the climax of the rivalry that began Nov. 13 with arrival of homemaking queens from all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Runner-up was Mrs. Arizona, Angelyn Almond of Phoenix. Mrs. Minnesota, Gloria Schultz of St. Paul, was third.

Mrs. Masson is a former receptionist and her husband is a retail store chain executive. They have been married 19 years.

Wisdom Keeps GOP Duo From Admitting 1964 Ambitions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The very best chemical for dissolving a politician's reluctance to run is enough support to give him a hope, but not necessarily a belief, he could win if he tried.

The most reluctant ones sometimes act like a tall man who wears a 10-gallon hat to be inconspicuous.

Same for Goldwater

None of the Republican trio most mentioned now as likely prospects for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964—Nixon, Rockefeller, Goldwater—as admitting any ambition for it.

This might be more wisdom than reluctance for at least two of them: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Their 1964 chances will depend on how they make out in 1962 when Nixon runs for the governorship of California and Rockefeller tries for re-election in his state.

Bessie of President Kennedy runs again and looks unbeatable in the 1968 presidential race might look attractive when Kennedy, under the constitution, could not seek a third term.

Nixon and Arizona's Sen. Barry

Goldwater have said they don't want the 1964 presidential nomination. Rockefeller just hasn't said.

All Make Speeches

But none of them shows any intention of being overlooked or out of sight—if he can help it—before the 1964 nominating starts.

Nixon's been making speeches and statements and writing newspaper articles. Goldwater has been extremely busy denouncing the Kennedy administration. And Rockefeller sticks his opinion into national affairs.

The very best way for Nixon and Rockefeller to stay in the public consciousness is to win their governorship races next year. They could also line up state delegations for themselves in the 1964 convention.

Barry in Limelight

If either loses the governorship, he becomes overnight a political dead duck. Nixon has a tough fight in California. A big unknown for Rockefeller is whether his impending divorce will hurt him.

Goldwater looks the surest of the three to remain a national figure until 1964 and perhaps until and beyond 1968, too. His present Senate term does not end until 1964.

If he sees no chance of a presidential nomination that year he can run for the Senate again. He

Charge Repeated Carlino Concern Helped by Bill

NEW YORK (AP) — State Assemblyman Mark Lane insists that, despite statements to the contrary, Lancer Industries Inc. stood to gain under the school and public fallout shelter bill passed by the Legislature recently.

Lane, a Manhattan Democrat, repeated his charge Thursday night. He previously had accused Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino, Long Beach Republican, of "betrayal of public trust" in urging passage of the legislation while he was a director of the firm on Long Island.

Carlino, whose resignation as a director became effective about a week ago, and Lancer officials contend the facts have been distorted. They maintain that the legislation, which carried a provision for state aid up to $1 million, does not deal with family-unit shelters—the product of a wholly owned Lancer subsidiary.

Lane said Thursday night the law empowers the State Civil Defense Commission to provide information and counseling services to communities and schools, including "the names of specific trade products and their manufacturers."

Lane said the commission "could recommend that all towns and cities should have Lancer fallout shelters."

Lancer Survival Corp., the Lancer Industries subsidiary, claims to be the largest manufacturer of fiber glass bomb and fallout shelters.

Carlino, Republican leader of Nassau County, has conceded that he received several hundred dollars in director's fees from Lancer Industries, as well as $5,000 in fees for work done for the company by his law firm.

Carlino denied, however, that the Lancer firm benefited from the shelter legislation. He said he severed all connection with the company six days after the shelter bill's passage two weeks ago.

Political Idol

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—Americans are tending to make a religious faith out of western democracy, the Rev. Dr. Karl E. Mattson, president of Augustana Lutheran Theological Seminary, told a meeting here. He said: "Christianity is not a political faith. . . . This 'religion of democracy' is a mixture of gods of sentimentality, sanctification of human effort and an optimistic view of man in the world and the identification of what is best in America with the Kingdom of God."

Profs Debating Face Lifting On Arithmetic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last of the three R's—rithmetic—is undergoing a face-lifting in many high schools.

Instead of concentrating on such things as logarithms, elaborate factoring, and proving solid geometry, many youngsters are spending part of their time on something called "new mathematics." It includes such items as "additive identity," "additive inverse" and the "commutative property of addition."

Introduction of what some call "new mathematics" has stirred up arguments among educators about its value.

In its defense, Dr. G. Bailey Price, chairman of the department of mathematics at the University of Kansas, says:

"The technological revolution now in progress requires that new mathematics be taught in our schools, that the emphasis be shifted in the teaching of many subjects already included in our mathematics courses, and that we increase the production of mathematicians and mathematics teachers."

In opposition is Dr. Morris Kline, director of the division of electromagnetic research of the New York University Institute of Mathematical Sciences.

He says: "The problem is not that our curriculum is outmoded, but that we have done a very bad job of presenting the material we have taught."

Changes may be needed, Dr. Kline says. But "all talk about modern society's requiring a totally new kind of mathematics is sheer nonsense."

The case for the new program is presented in a manual entitled "The Revolution in School Mathematics" published Thursday by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, a division of the National Education Association. Dr. Price is one of the authors.

10 Penn Areas Put In Depressed Class

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economic development programs covering 10 depressed areas in Pennsylvania have been approved by the federal government.

The Pennsylvania areas are: Schuylkill, Clarion, Forest, McKean, Venango, Warren, Lawrence, Crawford and Mercer Counties, and Kittanning-Ford City in Armstrong County.

Approval was announced Thursday by the area Redevelopment Administration which channels federal aid to sections with chronic and persistent unemployment and low levels of family income.

Six Are Rescued After Yacht Hits Delaware Jetty

DELAWARE CITY, Del. (AP) —A helicopter and surface vessels rescued a man and his five children from their 45-foot power yacht after it hit a jetty in the Delaware River and partially sank.

The helicopter, from Dover Air Force Base, plucked 6-year-old David Schollnick from the yacht Duchess Thursday night.

A rescue squad boat from Port Penn took the boy's brother, Jeffrey, 5, and two sisters, Deborah, 7, and Jenny, 8, aboard.

The father, Louis Schollnick, 42, a charter pilot from Rochester, N.Y., and his oldest son, Ronald, 17, stayed aboard for a short time in hopes of salvaging the yacht, which contained the family's belongings. Later, they were taken ashore by an emergency rescue boat.

Jeffrey and his two sisters were given hot food and a rubdown at a hospital. Early today the entire family, which was moving south, was reunited in a Wilmington motel.

Schollnick, who placed a value of from $18,000 to $35,000 on the yacht, said he planned today to attempt to raise it from the 12 feet of water where it sank, about 200 yards from shore.

P-TA Resolution
Is Acknowledged
By OCS Board

A resolution by the Woodstock P-TA urging prompt action on another bond issue to alleviate the serious classroom shortage in the Onteora Central School District was acknowledged by the Onteora Board of Education at its November meeting.

The resolution said that the Woodstock P-TA "views with alarm the serious classroom shortage that exists in the Onteora Central School System which will result in double sessions for a large part or all elementary school pupils in the system starting in September, 1962."

Board president Philip Gordon pointed out that the board is now conducting its own survey for the long range needs of the district. It is expected that a bond issue will be submitted to the voters early in 1962.

Low Delinquency

Tax collection data submitted by George D. Finigan revealed the lowest percentage of delinquency, 7.1 per cent, since records were started in 1953. Only $83,737.45 of the total tax levy of $1,185,659.43 was not paid prior to the deadline. The board then passed a resolution commending Tax Collector Francis A. Hanigan for his excellent work.

The board acknowledged receipt of a check in the amount of $1,722.72 on back tuition owed by Hurley School District No. 6. A letter from the Woodstock League of Women Voters notified the board that Mrs. Gordon Anderson and Mrs. Frank Falkner have been appointed League observers at all meetings of the Board of Education.

Albert Davis of West Hurley was awarded the bid for site work on the Athletic Field at Boiceville in the amount of $7,895.00 which includes a Poros-wall pipe.

Change Meetings

Minutes of the Oct. 16 meeting were amended to read as follows:

"Trustee Cruthers moved that Francis Hancock, Woodstock, be approved as temporary carryall bus driver for Route MW 1.15 at the rate of $10 per week for a 5-day week or $2.00 per day for each day less than a full week. In case of emergency, Principal Van Wagenen is appointed to drive as substitute, receiving no remuneration, as Principal Van Wagenen would volunteer his services. Trustee Knight seconded the motion."

Salary increases of $100 were approved for four members of the faculty — Holly Ruff, Virginia Slavik, Helen Turck and Margaret Ruff — subject to approval by the district superintendent and district principal. The board approved a change of status for Miss Gertrude Baringer from temporary typist to permanent typist grade one at no change in salary of $2700.

The resignation of Mrs. Janet Franz was accepted and she will be replaced by Mrs. Allison Hansen, former teacher in Woodstock.

Weather Info
Is Directed to OCS Parents

Parents of the Onteora Central School district have been notified by letter that the additional three-day Thanksgiving recess this year does not in any way subtract from the total number of days school will be in session this school year.

Watson I. Goodrich, administrative assistant, points out in the letter that the State Education Department requires school to be in session 180 days. The Onteora School calendar not only contains the required 180 days, but also contains seven additional days for school closings due to weather, road conditions or mass illness. In the event the seven days are not used for emergency school closings, Onteora will be in session more than required or recommended.

Goodrich's letter also points out that each year Onteora has found it necessary to close several days due to weather or road conditions. Decisions to open or close school are made as a result of the advice given by the district road superintendents, bus drivers and personal investigation.

various parts of the district report circumstances in their areas.

Decisions to close or remain open are made at 6 a. m. This early decision is necessary in order to stop bus drivers before they leave home. Radio stations WKNY, WGHQ, WBAZ and WGY will carry school closing announcements at 7 a. m. and after.

Goodrich pointed out that if school is in session, students absent from the school for reasons of weather or road conditions are unlawfully absent.

Junior League's
'Cinderella' Is Highly Praised

I don't know anything more infectious than the sound of laughing and giggling children! Nor anything more gratifying than the rapt attention of children viewing a performance specifically intended for them.

These were the just rewards given to the Kingston Junior League on Nov. 16 when they performed the play, "Cinderella" for the elementary youngsters at the Onteora Central School. This dramatic group, under the direction of Mrs. Elbert Mac Fadden is comprised of a group of dedicated amateur players who have been devoting their time to preparing and presenting children's plays in this area. They perform gratis for schools and organizations, build and transport their own scenery, design and make their own costumes and, like the minute men, can adapt their scenery and the action of their plays to the limitations of a stage and auditorium.

Not only do they merit huzzas for this, but for their keen conception of the type of performance that young people enjoy. They recognize a proper balance between the spoken word and action so that the play does not become burdened with lengthy dialogue. The "meat" of the script remains intact and is enhanced by gestures and movements more meaningful to the younger group.

It would be so fine to have a year round professional children's theatre in our area and from the delighted reaction of the audience at the Onteora School last week to the Kingston Junior League presentation, I would say that here's a group that could make it a reality...

Mele Students' Recital Draws Critic's Praise

In an article last week announcing a recital by his violin and viola students, Frank Mele made a statement to the effect that there is a lot of fine music by great composers which can be played by students who have applied themselves over a comparatively short time.

Last Sunday's recital at the Guild Gallery in Woodstock did more than prove this assertion. I found myself listening with pleasure to a student recital as music, and not as is so often the case, a sequence of pieces.

I was aware that Mr. Mele is a violinist and musician of a very high caliber. I knew that he had opened a studio for teaching violin and viola, and I expected a good deal. I must confess though that when I scanned the program for the recital, I had

OCS Board Members Are Slightly Puzzled By Microscope Bids

Maybe it's a case for Bobby Kennedy's office.

In any event, you can't blame members of the Ontario Board of Education if they are dismayed by the whole thing. And where do they go from here? Well, that will have to be determined later.

It seems that on Oct. 24, 1961, at 2 p. m., sealed bids for microscopes were opened in the office of Business Manager George D. Finigan in the central building at Boiceville.

There were seven bidders in all and each firm submitted an identical bid of $1,951.20. The bids came from Bausch and Lomb, Rochester; Cambridge Scientific Co., Boston; Carolina Biological Supply Co., Elton College, N. C.; Central Scientific Co., Somerville, Mass.; General Biological Supply House, Chicago; La-Pine Scientific Co., Chicago; Standard Scientific Supply Corp., Chicago.

The Board of Education rejected the original bids as too high and ordered re-bids. The replies arrived on Nov. 10, from the same seven companies. Amount of each bid and every bid? $1,951.20!

You wonder why the ladies and gentlemen on the Ontario Board of Education are a bit dismayed these days?

Some doubts. About the opening piece, for example: A string trio by Haydn—a form so delicate as to give pause to professionals. But the recital began and there was Helen Newcombe at first violin, her little daughter Lydia at second and Mele at viola, gaily and confidently expressing the musical ideas of "Papa Haydn."

Next we saw young Barton Balmer holding his own with poise in a Corelli Trio Sonata, playing with Mele at second violin and Barton's mother at the piano. Barton, a short term student, played his part cleanly and musically. Another Trio Sonata by Corelli followed, with Stuart Munson at first violin, Mele at second and Melanee Munson at the keyboard. Here was fine music played with restraint and musicality. For a man who has studied violin barely a year, Monson's playing of the final "Giga" was most astonishing.

Then Dr. Herman Ash appeared and distinguished himself by playing a piece which even career violinists would not perform without diligent practice: The Adagio from Max Reger's Suite in G Minor for unaccompanied viola. This Reger has been called, in the language of string players, "un-violistic," that is, awkward and difficult to master. But no strain was evident in Dr. Ash's playing, his tone was pure and the intonation good.

Corelli Sonata

After another Corelli Trio Sonata (B flat Major) there followed a movement from the Bach Sonata in G Minor for violin and piano. In this "Vivace" played by Marjorie Van Voorhis and Dr. Ash, neither the viola nor the piano has the entire say. Instead there is an alternating play of ideas, one instrument emerging, then the other, in each case the secondary voice supporting the main idea of the moment. This the team accomplished, and in a style appropriate to the period of Bach.

The recital closed with the second movement of Haydn's string quartet, op. 76, No. 3, in which the Austrian national anthem is the theme and is followed by a series of variations in which each instrument plays the solo in turn. Helen Newcombe was first violin, Stuart Munson, second violin; Dr. Ash, viola and Diane Meleski joined the others as cellist, playing with a nicety of expression that holds promise. The quartet's ensemble was surprisingly good, and all members contributed to a musically reading of the movement. I feel that this unusual way of presenting a student recital has set a precedent. To achieve such remarkable results must have taken an enormous amount of energy, time and patience on the part of Mr. Mele, and a lot of serious work on the part of the students as well.

The results were worth it, and a good-sized audience applauded the students heartily. Mr. Mele's comments upon music, violin playing and its development created an air of informality which put the audience at ease. At close of this refreshing and original recital Mr. Mele promised that next year and the years following there would be a wider variety of combinations and that before long it would be possible to form chamber orchestras as well. I earnestly hope so. — HILDE COHN.

Missing Persons Return

Search parties were ready to go into action in two different parts of the county today after reports of missing persons were received. However, the search was called off when both parties were located. One search was for a missing hunter who had gone into the woods near West Shokan at 6 a. m. Thursday, ended when he was found early today from the Grahamville area. He was John Dacey. State police did not know where he resided. The second search ended when a Saugerties boy, reported missing from home was reported to have returned home.

Wilson Addresses P-TA on Shelters

Fallout shelters for schools and the use of the new State Aid for school shelters was the topic of Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson Tuesday night when he spoke at the Kingston High School library to a large group of interested educators under sponsorship of the Kingston Consolidated P-TA Council.

Fallout shelters incorporated in new school plans would cost about one-tenth as much as those built after the school has been erected, Assemblyman Wilson told the group. Wilson emphasized the fact that such shelters could be planned to serve multiple peacetime school purposes.

Charles L. Arnold, assistant Civil Defense director, spoke of the need for home and community shelters to assure survival of the maximum population.

In the discussion which followed many questions were asked as to the nature of fallout and physical needs of a school-shelter program.

Present at the meeting were members of the board of education, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Earl F. Soper, and presidents of the local P-TA organizations.

Thaw and the bodies of three companions were found Tuesday in a cabin near Cuddebackville. They had set out on the trip Sunday.

The dead were Orange County Sheriff Ernest Schoonmaker, 54, of Middletown, father-in-law of Thaw; Grover Anderson, 54, a jailer at the Orange County Jail at Newburgh; and Capt. Warren Kane, 37, of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh.

ACCOUNTANTS, BANKERS DINE

About one hundred certified public accountants and bankers from a six-county area attended a meeting of the Mid-Hudson Chapter of New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants held last week at Hotel Newburgh, Newburgh, Arthur W. Patterson of Kingston, president of the Chapter, welcomed the members and their guests. Stephen Chan, a member of the certified public accounting firm of Eisner and Lubin and a member of the Committee on Cooperation with Bankers of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants was the guest speaker. His address "What the CPA and Banker Should Expect of Each Other," was followed by a stimulating question and answer period. Among the CPAs and bankers in attendance were (front row l-r) Richard North, Kingston; William Zeigler, and Henry Lamouree, Saugerties National Bank; Arthur Patterson and Leonard Rachmolvitz, Kingston; (rear row) Donald Becker, Saugerties; James Dwyer Jr., Rondout National Bank, Kingston; Lester Legg, William Belser, George Starkman, Kingston; Hasbrouck Decker, Kerhonkson National Bank; Meyer Regenbogen, Ellenville.

Crocs, Sharks Numerous

There is no way of searching thoroughly except by the bush-by-bush method.

Guarding the jungle from the sea is a 300-yard-wide mud bank.

Crocodiles laze in the mud near the shore. Outside the mud, sharks, some 20 feet long, patrol the shallow water. Residents say the sharks are unpredictable and sometimes do not disturb swimmers, but there aren't many who take a chance.

Gov. Rockefeller's survey traced his son's journey by catamaran—a double-hulled native raft—from the village of Agats to where he reportedly set off to swim to shore.

What lies in store for a man landing on this hostile coast? He can subsist on roots, herbs, a few grasses and river water.

But he also faces crocodiles, poisonous snakes and wild animals, plus natives who, although now officially classified as friendly, only a few years ago were headhunters.

Wassong Disclaims Responsibility

As the plane made a final circle, one of the governor's companions commented: "It's a hell of a place to get lost."

Michael's Dutch companion, Rene S. Wassong, who stayed with the catamaran and was rescued Sunday, said he argued for five minutes with the young American before Rockefeller shoved off for the shore.

"I disclaimed all responsibility," said Wassong, a collector of primitive art from Amsterdam.

Wassong said their craft was caught in heavy seas near the mouth of the Eilanden River Saturday and capsized. He said he and Michael agreed "we have a 50-50 chance either way."

Fleet Aid Not Needed

The commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, in a message to the Dutch navy commander in New Guinea, offered U.S. patrol planes, a carrier with helicopters and surface ships to aid in the search.

But a spokesman for the Dutch Defense Ministry said it was his impression that the U.S. help would not be needed because "adequate forces of all types are now available for the search."

The governor had planned to take an active part in the search Thursday—Thanksgiving—but changed his mind and established a command post at the home of District Commissioner E. Jansen.

He canceled a flight to Pirameen village on Cooks Bay, the nearest shore to the point at which Michael started swimming, and a later trip to a settlement on a nearby river.

The governor said he wanted to secure coordination of the hunt and indicated he didn't want to interfere in the professional search operations.

Opposed Swim Try

Wassong said he did not think Michael should have begun the swim at that time because the currents were seaward and the shore 3 1/2 miles away.

The Dutchman said Michael stripped to khaki shorts, underwear and a belt, with a sheath knife and compass attached, before leaving their overturned craft. He tied together two gasoline cans to provide buoyancy.

"I watched quite a long time—a half hour or so—until all I could see were three dots. They were Michael and the cans," he said.

Knew Area Well

Wassong said Michael might still be in the woods, adding: "He knew the area well."

The Dutchman said they left the village of Agats Saturday morning and planned to sail down the coast to Pirameen village on the Eilanden River. He said their craft may have been heavily loaded but declared it was not dangerously so.

Near the mouth of the river, he said, they ran into choppy seas and a strong current. Water splashed into the hulls of the craft.

Wassong said the catamaran was caught in the current and floated seaward despite paddling. The craft listed and finally capsized, he said.

Both he and young Rockefeller climbed aboard the hulls and spent the night trying to paddle with little success.

"Early in the morning Michael and I had our talk about swimming and he left," Wassong said. "That was the last I saw of him."

Wassong was picked up Monday by a patrol boat. He was not injured.

JFK. Advisers to Meet

HYANNIS, PORT, Mass. (AP)—A one-day respite from the burdens of office ended today for President Kennedy as he called in key advisers for conferences on defense spending, civil defense and trade policy.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara headed the delegation coming from Washington for day-long talks at the President's Cape Cod home.

Kennedy set up three separate conferences, the first beginning at 10 a.m. and dealing with the problem of trade policy.

But the government officials had to wait in Washington for a fog to lift at Old AFB, Mass., so their jet plane could land. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said this would delay the start of the conference about an hour.

This will be followed by a two-hour session on defense spending during the fiscal year starting next July 1. A mid-afternoon talk on civil defense will wind up the meetings.

Federal Systems, IBM, Has Land Option in South

A six months option on some 122 acres of land north of Gaithersburg, Md., was announced recently by the Federal Systems Division of the IBM Corp. from Rockville, Md.

The land is along Interstate Highway 70-S and Brown Station Road, north of Gaithersburg. If the option is exercised the FSD would erect a campus-style facility for its headquarters and information systems analysis and development personnel.

The FSD, it was noted, would move into the new facility between 1964 and 1967. The facility, which might eventually house 2,000 employees, would provide for the consolidation of FSD activities presently located in the Rockville-Bethesda area and for future growth.

Proprietary Drug Firms

Show Good Growth Gains

Q) "You seem to like shares of Sterling Drug as a growth investment. Why?" — R. G.

A) You're right. I like and have consistently recommended the purchase of Sterling Drug.

Why? Sterling is a drug company with a big stake in proprietary, which include the cold remedies, paid relievers, diet supplements, and other personal items so well-known to us all. When it comes to investing, this particular phase of the drug business is quite important.

The proprietary firms are able to promote vigorously their lines of repeat, consumer-type items. As a result, share earnings show strong patterns of steady gains.

Proprietary drug stocks like Sterling, American Home Products, Miles Laboratories, Plough, Richardson-Merrell, Bristol-Myers, Norwich Pharmacal, and Warner-Lambert have done extremely well in the past. I believe they will continue to turn in outstanding growth performances in the years ahead and recommend them on this basis.

Q) "Kennecott was recently recommended to me as a stock with capital gains potentials.

What do you think of this situation?" — S. L. & L. C.

A) Kennecott ranks as the world's largest copper miner and is a well-managed, financially sound firm. However, there is no growth here, and buying the shares is nearly the same as making a bet on the future price of copper.

If your judgment is accurate and copper becomes scarce, a pretty good profit could be made on the shares. But then, the opposite could just as easily occur, and a fair-sized loss might have to be absorbed.

Kennecott is a cyclical stock and, as such, is not particularly suited to the investor who desires gradual appreciation over a period of time. However, the yield is good, and a person who is patient can get an above average return while he waits for a possible upward move to occur.

If you happen to fall in the latter category, Kennecott is a satisfactory holding for you.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Delaware Avenue

Man Injured in Head-on Accident

Two men were injured early this morning when their cars collided on Route 9-W in the Town of Ulster. Trooper Thomas Crowley of the Kingston station reported Francis VanGaasbeck, 30, of 650 Delaware Avenue was traveling north on Route 9-W at approximately 7:40 a. m. Thomas Jackson of Hopkintown, Mass was traveling south.

VanGaasbeck told the trooper the Jackson car swerved to the left and although he attempted to avoid an accident he was unable to do so. The cars met head on.

VanGaasbeck sustained lacerations of the left arm and chest injury and Jackson received lacerations of the head. Both were taken to Kingston Hospital. Their condition later was reported as fair.

Farm Home Fire Fatal to 2 Boys There on Visit

OWEGO, N. Y. (AP) — A fire that destroyed a farm home claimed the lives of two young boys who had planned to share a Thanksgiving Day dinner with their grandparents.

Frank Carman, 6, perished in a bed during the early-morning fire Wednesday. His brother, Richard, 8, died at a Waverly hospital seven hours later.

Their grandfather, Frank Carman, 40, cut his hand as he broke several windows to save his wife, Lena, 38, three stepsons and the boys' sister.

Carman said he discovered the living room ablaze in the one-story, frame house about 3:30 a. m., 2½ hours after his wife had stoked a wood-burning stove in the room.

The fire apparently was caused by overheating of the stove, Tioga County deputy sheriffs said Carman told them.

Carman grabbed his granddaughter, Lena Carman, 7, from a davenport and carried her outside. Then he brought out his grandson, Richard; his wife, and her three sons by a previous marriage, Walter Mills, 16, Richard Mills, 19, and Leo Mills, 28.

Mrs. Carman and her sons were reported in fair condition with first and second-degree burns.

The Carman youngsters were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carman of Berkshire, a hamlet 13 miles north of this village near the Pennsylvania line. They had walked seven miles along a dirt road to their grandparents' home at East Berkshire. Their parents have four younger children.

Deepest oil well drilled in 1959 was in Texas. It went down almost five miles at a cost of $3 million and found nothing.

BLAST BOOT—The Marine Corps thinks it has licked the problem of casualties from land mines in warfare. Developed by Navy medical researchers at Camp Lejeune, N.C., the armored boot above has a six-inch beveled stainless steel sole with a blast deflection contour wedge to ward off fragments of exploding mines. The boots are expected to be issued in 1962.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC caught the late afternoon mood of the average American Thursday afternoon. It was a bright, light, uncomplicated little musical revue called "Home for Thanksgiving."

It came at just the right time for most of us—dinner over, catch-up talk with relatives running a little thin. And despite the title, it didn't drum in the Thanksgiving theme which by eventide had begun to seem a little threadbare. The performers including Gordon Mac Rae, Carol Haney, Patrice Munroe—all seemed easy going and relaxed. There was lots of pleasant music and it all hit just the right spot.

CBS might almost be accused of playing a dirty trick on those same well-fed average Americans. It rather inconsiderately scheduled the second of its exciting and illuminating "Eisenhower on the Presidency" programs for late evening Thursday, as poor timing as "CBS Reports" has ever been guilty of. Most of us were tired and sleepy by that time.

The thirty-fourth President of the United States continued his conversations with Walter Cronkite. He covered a wealth of subjects ranging from his own reasons for counting his blessings (we are not at war, are free, prosperous, able to vote and are respected by the world) to discussing the background for his decisions on Quemoy and Matsu, the Hungarian revolt, and U2 incident.

Again it was television at its very best. I wish the audience could have been.

Recommended weekend viewing: Tonight: "Ernie Kovacs Special," AEC, 8:30-9 (Eastern Standard Time); "U. S. Grant—Improbable Hero," NBC, 8:30-9; "Crossing the Threshold," NBC, 9:30-10 — first of a series on manned orbital flight.

Sunday: "Adlai Stevenson Reports," AEC, 3-3:30—Edward R. Murrow, guest; "Typhoon at Okinawa," CBS, 6-6:30—World War II battle complicated by a storm, on "20th Century"; "Chicago and All That Jazz," NBC, 10-11—story of jazz from that Midwest city.

Road Blocked 4 Hours As Coupling Breaks

HERKIMER, N. Y. (AP) — A 141-car New York Central railroad freight train blocked traffic four hours on the company's east-bound track and on a heavily-traveled highway after a coupling broke at a grade crossing.

Brakes were set automatically on all cars when the break caused an air hose to be severed Thursday. After the coupling was repaired, brakes had to be released manually on each car of the train. J.J. McArdie, 48, of Albany, the brakeman, was cut over the left eye when his head hit a window of the diesel locomotive as the train stopped suddenly. He was treated at a hospital and released.

The coupling broke on the 28th car behind the locomotive as the train crossed the highway that connects the village of Ilion with Route 5. The train was enroute from Dewitt to Selkirk. Railroad traffic was routed over other tracks until workmen had the train moving again.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The holiday season is right around the corner, so it seems. I have the Kingston Daily Freeman of December 24, 1884. Perhaps the readers may be interested in what was going on then in Kingston.

Here is an item from Local Notices of 1884: "While people are buying books, albums, diaries and pocketbooks for holiday presents have the name put on in gilt letters by Rickett's, 53 Wall Street adjoining Court House, Argus Building." Another item reads: "Why will people send their magazines to New York to be bound when there is a first class binder here. Call on Rickett, 53 Wall Street, Kingston." I take it, Rickett was an enterprising businessman of the 1880's in Kingston.

The following in same column: "Miss P. Hasbrouck, dressmaker, has removed from Maiden Lane to the Swart building, adjoining the Eagle Hotel, Main Street, Kingston, where she will be pleased to wait upon her customers, as usual." They had smaller advertisements for food in those days, like this one: "All kinds of sausage, pork, lard and everything else in the pork packing line, can be procured, cheap for cash, at Mulholland's, Meadow Street, Kingston, N. Y."

Christmas came out on Thursday, in 1884 and of course there was no local paper. "The ferry sleighs at Hudson were to be started today." I have a feeling back in the olden days, grownups took their children on trips to New York City more than they do nowadays. They had the steamboats on the Hudson and the excursions and also the trains, and travel was reasonable and convenient to New York City.

Old timers may remember the Simon Bros. One always carried an umbrella and the other, always a cane, so it is said. Their dry goods store was known far and wide to have the finest imported merchandise. They were down on Broadway in the early 1900's. I see back in 1884 an item reads: "Simon Bros. on The Strand have a large variety of fancy articles for Christmas presents." In those days children, both boys and girls, I think, wore Ferris waists with many buttons, which Simon Bros. sold.

Nowadays, restaurants have TV sets to amuse their patrons. In 1884 they wrote about "Seba Tiencken having 60 canary birds, five gold finches, several bobolinks and any number of other birds. These lively birds sing from morning until evening, item explains. Mr. Tiencken had his birds in very large cages at the end of his saloon on Wall Street, and it was a pleasant sight to watch these lively feathered songsters."

Following holiday notice in the 1884 Kingston paper: "The rooms of the uptown YMCA open on Christmas Day from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. The general secretary will be there to greet young men during the day. The gymnasium would be open, free to the public on Christmas. Music was to be furnished in the evening."

Herdman and Ferrine's on Washington Avenue, Kingston were advertising their heavy and light bob sleighs, also Portland cutters and swells, cheap. Christmas cards, novelties in toys and games, and a beautiful stock of juvenile books, gift books, engraving and frames were for sale at William F. Tolley, 29 Wall Street, Kingston.

A surprise baby shower was planned for Mrs. Ralph Guido on Monday, Nov. 13 to be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Tiano. However, events of the day pre-empted the surprise party and instead Mrs. Guido was rushed to the hospital that afternoon to await the arrival of her son, Thomas Paul Guido.

The party was given as planned and guests attending included the Mmes. Mary Fisher, Teresa Tiano, Joseph Guido, Ralph Carpino, John Tiano, James Guido, Ernest Guido, Paul Natale, Anthony Guido, Larry McCauley, Earl Mitchell, Joseph Orlando, John Guido, Charles Guido, Joseph Berardi and William Cotter.

Hostess was Mrs. Ralph Tiano. The gifts were presented "in absentia."

Junior Marrieds Plan Yule Dinner; Kilmer Is Guest

A program of music presented by Charles E. Kilmer was recently enjoyed by the Junior Married Women's Club of the YWCA.

Mr. Kilmer's program entitled, "Platters and Pills" was the 32 presentation of the year for the sonnet consultant, as he is known. He pointed out that the oldest God-given conception of music is singing to a baby by his mother. Music is the greatest unifying power. Any audible sound is music to someone, regardless of what the sound may be. Hospitals in England use music as therapy. Also Cerebral Palsy centers use music therapy in teaching patients how to eat. Music beat is much like the heart beat.

Mr. Kilmer played a composition written by a 20-year-old man who had lost his wife and two children in a train accident. The piece described his feelings of the situation. The audience joined in singing at the conclusion of the program.

At the business meeting, Mrs. William Kieth announced the appointment of Mrs. Donald Pierce as chairman of the Christmas dinner to be held December 21 at the Skytop at 7 p. m.

On behalf of Christmas gift project of the Junior Marrieds, Mrs. Herbert H. Reuner urges all members to bring their donations of new toys, games, unwrapped to the next meeting. This appeal is for the foster children in welfare care in Ulster County. Gifts must be in by the December 7 meeting so they can be taken to the Welfare Department for distribution. Any further information can be obtained from Mrs. Reuner.

Constitution chairman, Mrs. Robert Murray, presented her revised constitution to be voted on at the next meeting. Mrs. Murray also asked for donations to the YW nursery and received a car bed, which will help to accommodate small infants.

Hostesses for the evening were the Mmes. Alfred Port, John VanDine, Richard VanBramer, Robert Slicker, Daniel Calka and Richard Holden.

Cana Conference Held in New Paltz; More Are Planned

On Sunday, Nov. 19 the Ulster County Cana Conference Committee sponsored a Cana Conference. The Conference was held in St. Joseph's Youth Center in New Paltz, and hosts were members of the Christian Family Movement of St. Joseph's Church in New Paltz. Guest speaker was the Rev. John Ahearn of Our Lady of Mercy parish in New York City.

Father Ahearn spoke on "Husband-Wife Relationship." Father Ahearn is director of the Bronx office of Catholic Charities and does a great deal of family counseling.

In his talk he stressed that marriage is a vocation just as the call to religious life. He also conducted a question and answer period.

The Cana Conference Committee is planning a series of such conferences throughout Ulster County. The next conference is planned for January 28, 1962 at 3 p. m. in St. Peter's School, Rosendale. The speaker will be the Rev. John Flattery and his subject will be "Nature and Vocation of Marriage."

All married couples are cordially invited to attend.

They carried muffs with clusters of orchid carnations.

Ronald Coleman of Cortland, the bridegroom's fraternity brother, served as best man. Ushers were Irving J. Lowe, the bride's brother, and Alfred P. Wood, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was given at the Tropical Inn, Port Ewen, for approximately 150 guests.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and Moran-Spencerian School of Business. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, attended Ithaca College. He is now serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, with the Medical Corps.

AP Movie-TV writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bing Crosby was in town this week for a check on what he admits was the Crosby "population explosion."

"I not only got a new kid of my own," said the exuberant Bing, "I've also got three new grandchildren in the oven."

Bing had come home from England to meet his sixth son and seventh child, Nathaniel Patrick, born Oct. 29.

"We haven't figured out who he looks like yet; it's a little too early to tell," said the crooning patriarch.

Bing will now have more time to spend with his expanding family. He was leaving for his Nevada ranch for four weeks to rest up from his overseas rigors. He started "Road to Hong Kong" with Bob Hope last July, finished one day and started a TV special the next. The ABC show will air Dec. 11.

How did Bing take to such a long stay in Ireland?

"Fine," he said. "The eating was excellent. The English have come a long way since austerity days."

"London is my favorite city. The people you meet are middle class, friendly and amazingly well informed; you hear one of their man-in-street broadcasts and you find out they know what's going on in the world."

"The English are great sports lovers. They cherish their football (soccer), cricket, horse racing and golf. They not only watch, they play. They have huge grass areas all around London, and you can usually see five or six soccer games and a cricket match going on."

"That's something American kids don't seem to do anymore—play. When I was a kid, we were playing games all the time. Anything we could think of."

A passerby at Romanoff's suggested that Bing might be able to field his own baseball team if his population explosion continues.

"Oh no," he declared. "I'm through."

Boys Will Be Boys

Escapade on Bulldozer Does $10,000 Damage

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Boys often had gone to the Rush Construction Co. lot in suburban Elsmere to play and at times they climbed aboard the big bulldozer sitting there.

Thanksgiving Day was no exception. Four boys, ranging in age from 9 to 11, climbed aboard the dozer and began their play.

Suddenly the machine started in a backward motion and the boys jumped from it.

Before it could be brought to a halt it knocked down two buildings on the lot, went through a yard and tore out a kitchen wall at the home of John Goheen, knocked down trees, a hedge and fence in Goheen's yard and hit three cars in the street.

The damage estimate by police is $7,500 to $10,000. Distance traveled—about 1200 feet.

Charles Boyer, an owner of one of the cars, jumped aboard the bulldozer after it had dragged his auto 150 feet. He started pulling switches and somehow brought the machine to a stop.

Best Friend 'Ain't'

MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—Police easily nabbed two 12-year-old boys and a 13-year-old burglarizing a store Thursday because one took his dog along. The dog was waiting by a broken window and caught the eye of a passing policeman.

Lions Hear About Project Hope to Help Other Areas

This week's luncheon meeting of the Kingston Lions Club was highlighted by a presentation on "Project Hope" given by Robert Schnitzer, administrator of Kingston Hospital.

Hope is a people-to-people project designed to bring the medical know-how of the United States to far off, underdeveloped nations. Through the generous contributions of the American people, Project Hope was able to secure a retired Navy vessel from the government's mothball fleet and convert it into a floating hospital and medical training center.

The S.S. Hope, manned by a crew of dedicated medical personnel sailed on her maiden voyage to Indonesia where the crew has worked in cooperation with Indonesian people in an effort to improve the medical standards of that nation.

Project Hope, and the personnel of the S.S. Hope, exemplifies the desire of the American people to share and cooperate with all people of the earth toward improving the world.

Announced at the luncheon were plans for an inter-club meeting with the Esopus Lions Club. The meeting is scheduled for early December.

Deer Is Stolen

A button buck, shot Tuesday on a party permit, was stolen from the garage of Wilfred Doolittle, Rosendale Police Justice, Thursday night. Doolittle reported the loss to the state police who are investigating. He said the deer was taken from the garage of his home, James Street, Rosendale, between 5 and 6:30 p. m. Thursday. Others on the party permit were Lynn Dyer, Arthur Mulligan and Vincent Steeley, all of the Town of Rosendale. Doolittle shot the deer in the Rosendale area Tuesday.

Cadillac

A matter of minutes confirmed its fame!

He had heard and read a great deal about this 1962 Cadillac over the past several months.

And frankly, he wondered if any motor car could live up to the compliments that have come the way of this new "car of cars".

Well, he has just spent thirty minutes at the wheel—and the evidence is unmistakable.

Exhibit A: the way it looks. Inside and out, Cadillac styling has an undeniable sense of "rightness" about it. And its colors and fabrics are all master touches of elegance and luxury.

Exhibit B: the way it rides and handles. Boulevard or back trail, this one takes the road with incredible ease. Steering is little more than a gesture . . . and the car's ride is so level and smooth and quiet that it seems almost to float over the highway.

Exhibit C: the way it's built. The car is crafted to the most meticulous standards that can be placed over the manufacture of an automobile—and more than 1400 inspections now guard the production of every model. Here is quality that can be seen, and felt and sensed.

The verdict, of course, is indisputable. This is the zenith of sixty years of fine-car design and engineering. This is a Cadillac among Cadillacs.

We suggest, however, that you visit your dealer's showroom soon and act as your own jury. He'll be happy to present the case for Cadillac at any time.

Epitaph to Heroes:

NEW YORK (AP)—"God knows that they knew there were two people trapped and they were going to rescue them or die in the effort. Like soldiers, they died in the line of duty."

High Production Of Dairy Items May Ruin Support

WASHINGTON (AP) —A high government farm official has expressed concern that overproduction of milk and dairy products during the next year or two may undermine if not destroy the price support program for these products.

This official, who requested that his name not be used, said the present dairy outlook has many of the aspects of a situation which brought about a collapse 11 years ago in a potato price support program. Potato production expanded and expanded, causing price support costs to mount to levels that brought wide criticism.

As a consequence, Congress ordered the elimination of potato supports.

The official said the dairy situation indicates that one of two things need to be done if the dairy program is to be saved. One, he said, would be for dairy men to halt expansion in production. The other would be for the government to impose production controls.

However, the second action could not be taken unless Congress authorized dairy controls. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman sought such authority at the last session of Congress but failed to get it.

Man Is Thankful Car Struck Him, Tumor Discovered

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Thank God that car hit me," said Edward Adams as he convalesced from internal injuries.

Adams' pelvis was fractured and his spleen was ruptured when an automobile knocked him down Wednesday night.

Repairing the damage, surgeons discovered and removed an abdominal tumor which they said would have killed Adams eventually.

Popularity Sought

CHICAGO (AP) — Modern man responds "not to intimidation of conscience but to suggestions of the peer group," the Rev. Dr. Warren A. Quabbeck of Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., told a conference here. "This man is troubled lest he be unacceptable to his social group. He is not accessible to the preaching of the law. . . ."

That is Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr.'s epitaph for two firemen killed by smoke during a spectacular blaze that raged for five hours in subterranean storage vaults under the Times Tower.

There is another dead hero—a porter who was asphyxiated while trying to run an elevator to rescue cleaning women from the upper floors of the 24-story landmark at Times Square.

In addition to the three dead, 24 firemen and 6 civilians suffered smoke poisoning or injuries.

Fire marshals sought today to determine the cause of the fire which attracted a huge crowd to the area Thanksgiving eve.

Chief Marshal Martin Scott said the five-alarm fire began in either the third or fourth basement down.

Smoke poured up the elevator shafts from the sub-basements, spread through every floor of the office building and poured over the Times Square area from a vent at the setback at the 20th floor.

McLeod Leads KHS to 26-25 Turkey Day Win Over Newburgh

Senior End Gets Three Touchdowns, Sparkles With Defensive Play

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

A combination of Sampson, Hercules and Superman. Put them together and that's what Glenn McLeod, a senior on the Kingston High football squad was Thanksgiving Day at Dietz Stadium.

While more than 4,500 fans stared in disbelief, McLeod wrapped the Turkey Day victory for his teammates with as spectacular a defensive performance as you will ever see. Kingston nipped the visiting Goldbacks, 26-25, in a wild struggle that wasn't decided until the final gun went off, well over two hours after the game began.

McLeod was almost the entire show. All he did was score three touchdowns, one on a pass reception and two on runs after recovering fumbles. He was a thorn to the Newburgh backfield, throwing runners for losses and causing a rash of fumbles. In short, he was simply sensational.

What started out to be a defensive battle turned into a scoring orgy with the blue-shirted visitors leading and then just failing in a comeback which would have tied the contest in the final seconds. For those who like their football wide open, this was the game to see.

In addition to the three touchdowns by McLeod, Kingston had fullback Mike Ferraro tally on a run. Charles Johnson, a sophomore fullback, tallied three for the losers and Jimmy Hill, their speedster, ran 70 yards on a punt return for another. But these accomplishments have to be left in the background after the way McLeod played. It was phenomenal.

Miss Early Chance

The locals missed a scoring chance early in the first period when they moved from the 29 to the NFA two. Three penalties were assessed against the visitors and they meant three first downs for the Maroon players. That's the kind of a day it was.

With a first and goal to go from the nine, the Goldbacks dug in and took over when back Tony Esposito intercepted a pass in the end zone.

That marked one of the few missed opportunities in the struggle. The visitors moved 60 yards in seven plays to score in the second period. Johnson did most of the ground work and quarterback Eric Conine teamed with Pete Fogarty and Bob Ruckdeschel for a 23-yard pass-lateral play. This moved the pigskin to the KHS 15 and the locals were penalized to the eight for pulling on the mask.

Johnson, a 191-pound baby bull, put his head down and drove through a maze of tacklers for the extra point was blocked. The Goldbacks started another drive late in the half but Mr. McLeod entered the scene and deflected the first of his many defensive heroics. Conine fumbled to pass and McLeod rushed him, causing Eric to lose the ball. End Paul Natale pounced on the pigskin on the NFA 29 and quarterback John Falvey took charge of the offense from there.

He gave to Bob Kennedy for nine yards up the middle and then Falvey, Horace Walker and Kennedy worked a reverse, putting the ball on the 11. After Walker was dumped for a seven yard loss, Falvey passed for seven yards to Ferraro and then nine more to McLeod for the touchdown. Glenn caught it on the two, turned and went into paydirt untouched. Walker was wide with his PAT attempt.

Falvey Was Hurt
Kingston suffered a bad blow when Falvey was hurt during the scoring sequence. He received a concussion and was taken to the hospital. It's a good thing McLeod was around. The bitter defensive battle was changed when the Maroon players dashed to a pair of touchdowns within the first three minutes of the third period. Newburgh had taken the kickoff and moved to the Kingston nine. Conine sparked the drive with a fake to Johnson and then a 43-yard run.

With third down, Conine threw a lateral to his left. It never reached the intended receiver. The ball hit the ground and McLeod picked it up and tightrope his way for 90 yards down the sidelines. Paul Gruner, a javvy quarterback making his varsity debut, threw a big block at midfield and McLeod continued on his journey. Walker's boot zoomed the locals into a 13-6 lead.

Before the buzzing had subsided, the locals had another chance to score. Conine again attempted a lateral. McLeod rushed in, hit the quarterback hard and the ball squirted loose. Natale, another invaluable performer, recovered on the NFA 27.

Ferraro took over from there. He carried three times for 17 yards and on his fourth attempt, Mike fought his way for a score and Walker booted the point. At this stage of the proceedings, Newburgh was demoralized. The tide had turned. The Goldbacks didn't quit. They came storming back and marched 70 yards in 14 plays. A costly roughing the passer penalty against the home side aided the drive and Johnson climaxed it with a 14-yard run up the middle. Hill then raced for the point to slice the margin to 20-13.

On the third play of the fourth quarter, Hill, who had been bottled up by a tenacious defense, took a punt on the 30, got by a couple of would-be tacklers and raced 70 yards. He showed his vaunted speed by outracing the secondary by five yards. Hill then tried for the point but guess who brought him down? It was McLeod with a flying tackle.

There was still a lot of football left. Newburgh started a drive from the KHS 34 after a pass interception. Hill brought it from the 32 to the 11 and Goldbacks were near another score. It didn't happen, at least not this time. Another fumble (they had six of them and lost the ball five times) stopped the bid as Gruner recovered it on the seven. Both sides exchanged punts before the visitors began another march, this time from the 40. Charlie Graham went for nine to place the pigskin near midfield. Then Conine went back to pass. McLeod broke through his interference and hit the passer's arm. The ball fell loose. Steve Eckdick recovered for Kingston on the Newburgh 35.

That Man Again
This threat was halted by an interception but it took only one play to change hands again. Again Conine went back to pass and again his tormentor came through the interference. The ball was knocked loose and McLeod picked it up and rambled 18 yards for a score. The PAT was blocked but Kingston led, 26-19, with time running out.

The Goldbacks weren't through. They drove 71 yards in only six plays with Hill getting 24 of them on a run and Ruckdeschel catching a toss from Hill for 27 more. Johnson took the ball the final five yards and with only 35 seconds remaining, the visitors needed only an extra point to knot the score.

Conine took the snap and sent Johnson through the line ahead of him. As Eric tried to follow suit, McLeod and Jack Lewis hit him and the attempt failed. Kingston ran out the clock and one of the wildest of all Thanksgiving Day clashes came to an end.

McLeod was hoisted to his teammates' shoulders and carried from the field into the dressing room. He had earned the "free ride."

Sharing honors with the senior end were John Duffner, a steady tackler and Lewis, a plugger all the way. Gruner came out of his initial varsity game with glory. He was forced to take Falvey's place and Paul did it well. Ferraro was a good runner. But as Conches Burke, Hurley and Cole said after the nail biting had stopped, "They all did a grand job. It was a great one to win."

The Goldbacks weren't without their heroes. Johnson was a solid runner but he had help from Hill, Graham and Conine. The NFA line was tough when in the shadow of the goal line. Those who watched the game will never forget it. Neither will McLeod. He was the difference.

Lakers, Celtics Winners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hapless St. Louis Hawks, five-time winner of the Western Division title in the National Basketball Association but unsuccessful — comeback Thursday night before bowing to Los Angeles 122-114.

That, combined with Syracuse's 117-99 victory over Cincinnati, gave the pace-setting Lakers a 5½ game bulge atop the Western Division standings and dropped the fourth-place Hawks eight games off the pace.

In the East, the defending champion Boston Celtics resumed their habit of winning the big ones, tripping Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia Warriors 119-106 in Philadelphia. It opened Boston's Eastern lead to 3½ games over the Warriors.

The Hawks pulled up to within 2 points at 77-75 in the third period, but couldn't get closer. They were never closer than four in the last quarter.

Elgin Baylor poured in 40 points and grabbed 23 rebounds for the Lakers.

Boston, trailing 59-55 at the half, struck for 16 points in a four-minute span of the third period while Philadelphia managed a lone free throw. That put them ahead to stay, leading by 6 to 14 points the rest of the way.

Syracuse held Oscar Robertson to 20 points and Jack Twyman to 17 in its relatively easy affair with Cincinnati.

Lemm's Magic
Spurs Oilers
To 5 Straight

Wally Lemm is fast becoming a miracle man in Houston after years of relative obscurity in the pro ranks as a defensive coach. Since Lemm took over the Oilers, the club has won five straight and moved into first place in the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

Lemm took over the Oilers Oct. 16 after Lou Rymkus was fired by owner Bud Adams. Houston, the defending AFL champion, hasn't lost a game since.

"We put in some of Pop Ivy's double wing stuff that I knew from my days with the old Chicago Cardinals," said Lemm in Houston. "It is our secondary offense but it worked for three touchdowns last Sunday against the New York Titans."

"Our club has two receivers who are as fine as anybody on any club in the country. They are Charlie Hennigan and Bill Groman. Groman has scored at least one touchdown every game for the last 10 games."

"With George Blanda throwing and Hennigan, Groman and Billy Cannon catching, we can put on quite an air attack. Except for the Buffalo game, we have been able to move the ball along the ground, too."

With four games to go, the Oilers are hoping to get into the league championship game with the unbeaten San Diego Chargers, who already have clinched the Western Division title.

Warren Giles Is Opposed To Restoring the Spitball

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Put down Warren Giles as flatly opposed to legalizing the spitball pitch, a proposal expected to provoke a big battle among baseball men next month.

Giles, National League chief, said today he believes revival of the spitter might cut down scoring and curtail home runs.

He said: "The home run is the most exciting play in baseball, comparable to the long touchdown in football and the field goal from far out in basketball."

"It is my firm belief that the long ball, particularly the home run, is what the fans come out to see."

Giles' opposite number in the American League, Joe Cronin, is already on record favoring return of the spitter.

He contended two weeks ago that "it's quite possible some pitchers could add three, four or even five years to their careers if they can use the spitball."

The big tussle is to come early next month when the major leagues rules committee must decide at its winter meeting in Tampa, Fla., whether to legalize the spitball again.

Managers and players in the big leagues want a firm decision on the matter, partly because they say, some pitchers have been using the outlawed spitter to good advantage.

In its legal days, the spitter came when a pitcher put saliva, or some other foreign substance on the ball, or roughly up one side of the ball and served up a pitch with great spin that veered in an eccentric and unpredictable way.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The 143 contestants looked to the skies for better weather today while they tried for about 60 openings in the last two rounds of the Mobile Open Golf Tournament.

Despite a soggy course and gusty winds in Thursday's first round, 33 players crowded both sides of par, which is 72 over the 6,800-yard Mobile municipal golf course. But only a dozen were below par.

Three players tied for the lead with 68 in the first round. They were Ken Still of Tacoma, Wash.; Leo Biagetti, a pro from Ashland, Ohio, and Gay Brewer, Jr., of Crystal River, Fla.

The field was to be trimmed to the low 60 scorers and ties after today's second round.

Co-favorites Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders both had their troubles in the opening round. Palmer had trouble with his putter but posted a 37-35-72. Sanders came in late with a 74.

Bunched behind the leaders at 70 were Julius Boros, George Knudson, Tom Nieporte and Johnny Pott.

Champs Finish With 1st Perfect Season Since '17

While a crowd, estimated as between 7,500 and 8,000 cheered them on, Middletown High players completed their first perfect grid season since 1917 and captured their first DUSO championship since 1942 with a 19-6 triumph over Port Jervis Thursday at Wilson Field.

The Middies broke loose for a pair of touchdowns in the second period and another in the third before yielding a solo score to the Raiders in the dying stages of the game.

Defensive ace Billy Gray broke open the scoreless deadlock with a pass interception late in the second half. He went 38 yards to a touchdown and Larry McDowell kicked the point.

Smith Romps
Less than two minutes later, Ronnie Smith gave the Porters a sample of his talents with a neat 70-yard run on a simple off-tackle play.

The home side moved 58 yards in 17 plays in the third period with Smith and Steve Grodin doing most of the work. Quarterback Billy Kindberg passed to Smith to place the ball near the end zone and Grodin took it in from the one.

Port Jervis, which could have tied for the league title by winning, went 85 yards in the last period with T. A. Mackey, a workhorse all morning, the big gainer. He carried eight times for 42 yards and finally went 13 on the final try for a touchdown.

Though the score was close, the Middies had the better of the contest. They went to the PJ nine in the opening period and then had a pass intercepted. They went to the six later in the game before a penalty halted the bid.

In closing their season, Coach John Whitehead's team rolled over eight opponents. They scored 232 points and permitted only 29.

Score by periods:
Middletown 0 13 6 0-19
Port Jervis 0 0 0 6-6

Sports Talk

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Retired Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick of Kingston and his onetime prize pitcher, Bernard A. (Bud) Culloton will be listed among the several thousand players in the all-time major league playing roster now being assembled by the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown.

Judge Schirick played briefly with the St. Louis Browns of the American League, following a college career as catcher at Cornell University where he earned the unprecedented honor of being captain of the baseball team for two straight years.

The St. Louis manager then was no less than Branch Rickey, who later earned baseball immortality by developing the St. Louis Cardinal and Brooklyn Dodger farm systems and baseball dynasties.

The lasting bond between Rickey and Judge Schirick was evidenced many years later when Rickey agreed to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers of Leo Durocher to Kingston for the Jack Robins Memorial game which attracted more than 6,000 persons to Dietz Stadium during the war period.

Durocher Was Fired:

There were a couple of interesting angles to that game. For one thing, Durocher refused to make the trip to Kingston and was fired overnight. The next day he was reinstated.

We were in the Air Force at the time, serving as assistant in Goose Bay, Labrador. Living in close, daily proximity with Father Daniel J. Ryan, chaplain for Goose Bay, we suggested in one of our quiet moments that he might recommend a three day emergency pass so we could attend the Jack Robins Memorial. The good padre commended us for the request. It was a good try, anyway.

A Florida Rescue:

Fred Schweigel of Dunedin, Fla., who has several relatives in Port Ewen, and a friend figured in a dramatic rescue of four Clearwater men from the Gulf of Mexico on Nov. 8, after an explosion rocked their 26-foot cabin cruiser and the boat sank about a mile offshore from Caladesi Island. They were in the water nearly a half hour before Schweigel and his friend picked them up. None of the men was seriously injured, although one was in mild shock and another suffered a cut leg. The rescue received widespread attention in the Florida press. Mrs. Schweigel (Marge) earlier had figured in an amusing incident when a 2½ pound pompano jumped into her lap while she was sitting in the stern of a boat off Dunedin. Schweigel is a brother of Harry Schweigel, River Road, and William Schweigel, 225 Broadway, Port Ewen, and Mrs. Anna Spinnenweber and Mrs. Ralph Greiner.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

The first paid entry in the 1962 New York State women's tournament is Banker's Restaurant, and it figured. The team captain and sponsor is Mrs. Gladys M. Banker, state women's association president. Rose Schatzel's 700 series is the highest rolled by a New York State woman this season. . . . William Majestic of Gardiner bagged a rare, white deer on opening day west of Benton Corners. The 130-pound, spiked buck hunting for more than 20 years. . . . Herman Helber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Boening of Eddyville, was among 14 members of the Union College varsity soccer squad who earned letters this season. . . . Leonard Muhlisch of Phenicia received his freshman football jersey numerals at Ithaca College. The former Ontario Central athletic star played on a team that compiled a 3-2 record, defeating St. Lawrence, Alfred Frosh and Cortland Jayvees, while losing to the Cornell and Buffalo frosh. . . . Muhlisch, a halfback, is enrolled in the School of Health and Physical Education at Ithaca College.

A Fish Story:

The Port Isabel (Texas) High School football team — as befits a community noted for sports fishing — is the Tarpons. The half-back who scored the final two touchdowns of the 1961 season was Steve Marlin. It figured.

Glenierie Club Bridge Results

Dr. Irving Adner and Dr. Victor Randal of Kingston led the North-South side of the Glenierie Bridge Club tournament with an excellent 65 per cent game.

Henry Vieter of Boston and I. H. Wheatcroft of Kingston were the leaders with 66 per cent on the East-West side. Twenty-six boards were in play in a 13-table Mitchell movement.

George Baron and Joe Pechloff of Kingston were runnersup with 57 per cent on the North-South side, followed by Mrs. George Einterz and Mrs. Irving Adner, Kingston, 56 per cent; Miss Dorothy Maroon and Dr. Habbab Maroon, Kingston, 55 per cent. Thomas Brooks of Hyde Park and John Chapman of Poughkeepsie were second with 56 per cent on the East-West side. Mrs. Paul Mezer and Mrs. Esther Weissman of Kingston had 54½ per cent, followed by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. De Temple of Kingston with 54 per cent.

A Fractional point game is scheduled tonight at 8 p. m. at the Ridgely Casino in Stone Ridge.

Al Hrdlicka, Schirmer Only Returning Vets

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

With three regulars missing from the 1960-61 star-studded squad, which captured the DCSL title and finished second in the Class B, Section Nine tourney, Saugerties High coach John "Bud" Smith has his work cut out for him this season.

Last year his cagers won 17 games and lost only three. Gone via the graduation route are Billy Eckhoff, an all-league selection; John Nolan and Jerry Dunzy, valuable backcourt performers. Finding replacements for that trio looms as Smith's big job.

He won't be starting from scratch because the Sawyers have Al Hrdlicka, the league's most valuable performer, and rugged Bill Schirmer back for duty. They are assured of starting assignments along with Mike Dodig, a reserve last year. Two other reserves, Andy Jacobs and Bob McKay also figure in the picture.

Counting on Jayvees
Behind that quintet, the popular and successful coach, a former game star at Ithaca College, is counting on several Jayvee performers. Keith Mills, a 6-4 prospect is the lad hoping to fill Eckhoff's shoes. Others fighting for berths are John Granwehr, Don Rothrock, Brad Welton, Lou Spada, Chuck Schirmer and Paul Buynkins.

The Sawyers, who nipped Roosevelt for the title last season and were in turn beaten by the Presidents for the Section Nine crown, figure to have the same club as the chief title threat this season. There isn't too much known about the other circuit entries but the battle to see who will finish at the top figures to be wide open.

Jeff Smythe will handle the Sawyer Jayvees. He replaces Fred Seither.

Saugerties will debut next Tuesday in a 4 p. m. home tilt against Hudson.

Kelly's 3 Goals Highlight NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Red Kelly's three-goal performance and a couple of comebacks led the National Hockey League rocking along in a sizzling three-team race for first place.

Kelly's scoring heroics highlighted Toronto's 5-2 victory over Chicago Thursday night while Montreal and New York each overcame 3-1 deficits in winning their games. Montreal took Detroit 5-3 and New York beat Boston 4-3.

That left the Rangers in first place, just one point up on the Canadiens. Toronto is just one point further back in third.

New York player-coach Doug Harvey slapped home a shot that was deflected into the nets by Boston defenseman Leo Boivin for the winning margin with only 18 seconds left.

The Rangers were trailing 3-1 in the third period before Camille Henry tallied on a breakaway. Andy Heberton tied it 3-3 only 25 seconds later.

Montreal also got three last-period goals in beating Detroit 5-1. Montreal fell behind 3-1 in the first period.

The victory snapped a five-game winless string for the Canadiens and kept pace with the Rangers.

Bowl Picture in Focus

Major College Grid Titles Will Be Decided on Saturday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bowl picture will become clearer and all but one of the major conference titles will be settled Saturday when the 1961 football season presents its last full day of activity.

There still remains next week's traditional closer featuring Army-Navy, and a few more traditional rivalries.

At least four bowl spots will be filled by Saturday evening, and every major conference, except the Southeastern, will be able to crown its 1961 champion.

Alabama, the nation's No. 1 team in the current Associated Press poll, is idle this week and holds onto its SEC lead until next Saturday's battle against Auburn. Its post-season plans, presumably the Rose Bowl, won't become known until after this game.

But with Texas already in the Cotton Bowl and assured of at least a tie for the Southwest Conference title after Thursday's 20-0 victory over Texas A&M, the tempo begins to pick up.

Texas used a pair of field goals by Eldon Mortz to soften up the Aggies in the first half, then polished them off with a three-touchdown burst. The victory gave the Longhorns a 9-1 season record and assured them of the host spot in the Cotton Bowl. Arkansas (No. 9) can tie for the conference lead if it beats Texas Tech, but Texas goes to the Cotton Bowl by virtue of its 3-6 decision over the Perkers.

An Arkansas victory over Tech would make it eligible for a bowl, probably the Bluebonnet or Sugar.

Tulane in Picture

Fourth-ranked Louisiana State plays Tulane, then gives its final answer to the Orange Bowl commitment. An opponent will come from the Big Eight, where leaders Colorado (No. 7) can wrap up the title by beating Iowa State. If the Buffaloes lose, then a Kansas victory over Missouri will cause a tie and might get the Jayhawks to Miami.

The Rose Bowl host will be decided when UCLA and Southern California meet on the West Coast in a game that will decide the Big Five title. Just in case the Big Ten gets the nod, Minnesota (7-1), defending national champ and ranked third currently, must beat Wisconsin to stay in a tie for the title if Ohio State ranked second, wins over Michigan.

Both would be considered co-champions and it would be up to the Rose Bowl committee and the conference to decide who goes.

Texas' opponent in the Cotton Bowl most likely will be Mississippi (No. 6), but Old Miss is idle this week and closes against Mississippi State Dec. 2.

Maryland must beat Virginia Saturday to get into the Gator Bowl against Georgia Tech, which is also idle until next week.

The big question mark is the Sugar Bowl, where Arkansas may be one team against Atlantic Coast Conference winner, Duke, which closes next week against Notre Dame. Other prospects include Auburn, which meets also eligible Florida, Rice, which will meet Texas Christian and closes Dec. 2 against Baylor, and Miami of Florida, which plays Northwestern tonight in Miami.

Canadian Stars In 10,000 Meter

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Houston's track and field club is still team champion, but Canada's 18-year-old Bruce Kidd is the talk of the experts today after his victory in the National AAU 10,000 meter cross-country run.

Kidd sloshed through mud and a drizzling rain Thursday to beat the field of 120 in the annual event, held on the Bellarmine College campus. His time was 32 minutes, 2.6 seconds. John Gutknecht of the Baltimore Olympic Club was second, about 40 yards back, running the 6 1/2 mile course in 32:08.

Houston, in winning the team championship for the third consecutive year, had 35 points, followed by Southern Illinois with 64, Baltimore Olympics 83, University of Chicago Track Club 87 and New York Athletic Club 88.

Syracuse Sees Notre Dame Conceding Disputed Victory

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Notre Dame probably will concede victory to Syracuse in a disputed football game won last Saturday by the Irish, 17-15, the chancellor of Syracuse University says.

But Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder apparently is irked by Notre Dame's delay in taking any action.

Chancellor William P. Tolley said Thursday night it appeared clear from remarks made Wednesday night by the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, that Syracuse would be declared the winner.

Notre Dame was awarded the victory on the basis of a field goal kicked after time had run out. Both schools later asked the National Collegiate Athletic Association rules committee for a ruling on the play.

The committee's opinion, Father Hesburgh said, would be studied and his university would "act accordingly."

Plagues Tolly

"Father Hesburgh made the kind of statement I was sure he would make and I'm grateful for it," the Rev. Mr. Tolley said. "Any institution that had a tarnished victory would be embarrassed by it — I know we would."

Schwartzwalder indicated he hoped the controversy would end soon.

"This thing has dragged out too long," he said. "I know what the chancellor (Tolley) would do as soon as he got the facts. He would have conceded by Monday."

Notre Dame tried for a field goal as the game ended with Syracuse leading, 15-14. The kick failed but a roughing penalty was called against Syracuse and Notre Dame's Joe Perkowski was successful in a second try for three points.

Spokesmen for both the Big Ten Conference and the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference said Monday that the game officials were wrong in calling the penalty but that the conferences had no authority to change the outcome of the game for the records.

The Big Ten and the ECAC assigned the officials for the game.

Upstate Runners Win Poughkeepsie Races

Packers Nearer That Title

DETROIT (AP)—With or without Pvt. Paul Hornung, only a complete collapse will halt the Green Bay Packers' drive to their second straight Western Division title in the National Football League.

The Packers, with Hornung in the lineup, defeated the Detroit Lions, their closest pursuers, 17-9 Thursday. The victory, on a muddy field before 35,662 soaked fans and a national television audience, left the Packers 2 1/2 games ahead of the Lions.

Just one victory in their remaining three games will send the Packers into the Dec. 31 NFL championship game with the Eastern Division champion.

"We're not having a celebration — not yet," said Coach Vince Lombardi, the man who built the Packers from a doormat to a division champion in two years. "But obviously we're in great shape, needing only one more win to take it."

George Wilson, whose Lions had made a remarkable comeback by losing only once in six games until running into the Packers, agreed the race in the West has ended.

Hornung and soldier-teammates Boyd Dowler and Ray Nitschke are available on a game-to-game basis. The Army granted them and John Gordy of Detroit passes to play Thursday.

It was the first football in 11 days for Hornung, the NFL's leading scorer. He appeared rusty and the thick mud handicapped his running.

But he caught a key 26-yard pass in the Packers' 40-yard drive that resulted in their winning touchdown on the first play of the final period.

The Packers now will take a few days off while the New York Giants and Cleveland Browns will play the Eastern Division showdown Sunday at Cleveland. The Giants lead the Browns and the Philadelphia Eagles by one game.

The Eagles will be at home Sunday against the Dallas Cowboys. In Sunday's other games, Baltimore plays Washington, Los Angeles plays Chicago, Minnesota plays San Francisco and St. Louis plays Pittsburgh.

Ray Westendorp of Cornell University and Tim Burns of Buffalo State A.C. broke the course records Thursday in winning the 50th annual Poughkeepsie Thanksgiving Day road races. Jimmy Sims of Kingston placed sixth in 5-mile race in clocking 25 minutes, 30 seconds. There were 70 finishers in this division.

Westendorp, 21-year-old electrical engineer major from Schoenectady, scored by several hundred yards in capturing the 10-mile race through the city's streets in 50:42.2. Oscar Moore of the New York Pioneer Club was second in 51:45.

Burns, a 20-year-old industrial arts student, won by more than 100 yards in 23:43.2. Richard Vehlou of New York Community College was second in 24:03.

All but one of the 71 starters finished the 5-mile event and all 61 entrants completed the 10-mile journey on a clear, cool day.

The other top finishers included: 5-Mile Race — 3. James O'Connell, CCNY, 24:18; 4. Attila Matray, Jersey A.C., 24:57; 5. Fred Best, Jersey A.C., 25:25. 10-Mile Race — 3. Ed Duncan, unattached, Boston, 52:10; 4. William Schwab, unattached, 53:29; 5. Tom Farry, Cobleskill, to take it."

"I'm getting tired of going steady with you, Harold. Why, I haven't even seen you in three months!"

tomatoes, growing from the same plant, are picked from the top. —Mrs. Eva Pruitt, Manchester, Ga.

The gentleman at the party sighed as he spoke to a guest who chanced to be beside him.

Gentleman—Women are certainly fickle. See that pretty woman over by the palm? Well, she's been smiling and flirting with me for the past quarter-hour, but now she's cold as ice. Other Man—I didn't notice as I've just arrived, but that woman is my wife.

Judge—The traffic officer says you got sarcastic with him.

Motorist—But I didn't intend to be. He talked to me like my wife does, and I forgot myself and answered, Yes, my dear.

Resolution Asks Strikes Prevented Against Dairymen

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The 1962 Legislature will be asked to pass legislation to prevent strikes that place a financial burden on dairymen.

The Metropolitan Cooperative Agency approved a resolution Wednesday at the closing session of its 25th annual meeting that asks for a "basis for legally suspending future strike action which interferes with distribution of milk."

Dairymen lost about $1.5 million during a recent strike by Teamsters in New York City, the cooperative said.

The group, which represents 22,000 members in New York, Vermont, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, elected these directors:

Edward Cobb, Sackets Harbor; Ward Phelps, Covington, Pa.; John B. Holloway, Amsterdam; Carlton Briggs, DeRuyter; Russell Dennis, Fairport; Glenn Talbot, Fillmore, and James Donnon, Galway.
